NEAR Troppau, Austria, is the Catholic village of Gilschwitz, inhabited mainly by rich farmers. The village has risen en masse and declared its intention of turning Protestant should its Archbishop persist in opposing its independent choice for parish priests.

SUBSCRIPTIONS have been opened in Italy to raise monuments to Savonarola, the great preacher of Ferra, and to Hodoni, printer, who published at Parma, at the end of the last century, splendid editions of the classics, now much sought after by book collectors.

THE Bourse Gazette of St. Petersburg states that a report made to the Czar by the Minister of War, shows that Russia possesses at present 566,232 needle-guns, and that the fabrication of metallic cartridges has reached 300,000 a day, giving a total in hand of 15,000,000.

THE London police have a new head-dress, which somewhat resembles the helmet worn by the soldiers of the Prussian army, but is not surmounted by a spike. A peak in front comes down so far as to cover part of the wearer's nose, and a peak at the back will protect the neck from heat or rain, as the case may be.

THE Gaulois reports a short conversation which took place the other day at Ascot, between the Princess of Wales and a French attache, who was over-elated at the victory of Sornette. "That admirable race, Madame," said he, "revenged us for Waterloo." "True," answered the Princess, "but at Waterloo you ran better still."

THE excessive heat of the weather in England, combined with the exposure to the glowing heat of the furnaces, caused a number of men in the iron works in the South Staffordshire district to leave their work recently. It is stated that a number of the puddling furnaces will be let down till the weather becomes cooler again.

THE Government of the Grand Duchy of Mecklenburg-Schwerin has just purchased all the railroads in that State. These railroads have been in operation for twenty-four years, and yet no passenger has ever been killed on them during that time, nor have any employes of the roads been injured in the discharge of their duties.

THE Grand Duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, who is now traveling in Italy, was, the other day, in the environs of Naples and barely escaped being captured by a gang of bandits. He had only a single aid-de-camp with him, and, in running for his life, lost his hat and walking cane. A couple of bullets which the bandits sent after the two gentlemen did not take effect.

TWO monitors, the Athaulpa and Manco Capac, have arrived safely in Peruvian waters. A government decree has been issued granting promotion to all the officers thereof, and presenting each of the men with a sum of money. These two vessels have attracted a goodly number of visitors, and the opinions expressed with regard to their utility and worth are varied.

THE exiled Orleans family during their stay in England have been noted for charitable acts, and the Princess Marguerite of Orleans has laid the first stone of the new buildings for the Towerhill industrial and poor schools in great Prescott street. The district in which the Princess thus closely interests herself is among the worst provided in all the wide bounds of neglected London.

THE Press of Berlin recently held their annual fete, which closed with a performance at the Theater Royal. An excellent prologue was written by Carl Frenzel, and delivered by Herr Berndal. The play, by Fred. Spielhagen, his first attempt in dramatic literature, was called "Hans and Grete." Afterward a dinner was given at the Hotel de Rome, where the drama, poetry, and the press fraternized over Rhenish wine.

THE railway works throughout Peru are progressing rapidly, and the appearance of Mr. Meiggs' American locomotives in Lima caused a sensation of admiration and surprise among the Peruvians, accustomed to the very different class of engines employed on the English roads to Callao and Chorrillos. Several railroads, undertaken by private individuals in the north of Peru, are also pushing forward.

IT is now stated that the long lost Second Decade of Titus Sivius has been found, and in a perfect condition. The librarian of the old Monastery of Leignitz, Saxony, writes that he had long suspected its existence from the fact of having found it marked on an old catalogue of the library. All the savans of Germany are in a state of excitement over this discovery. Investigations thus far are said to have proved its authenticity.

SOME Bolivian invaders, a few weeks ago, entered the territory of Peru and shot a number of Peruvian Indians. Estevan Mamani, a Peruvian, on coming out of his car to speak to the invaders, was shot down. Manuel Mamani was captured, dragged at the tail of a horse and had his tongue cut out, because he claimed to be a Peruvian, and his head was taken off on arriving at the dividing line between the two republics. Yet Peru and Bolivia are not at war.

THE Federal Council of the North German Confederation have received with favor a proposal which is worth of the attention of all maritime nations. The idea emanates from the old Hanse town of Bremen, and is to the effect that sailors, whether Germans or foreigners, who assist a North-German vessel in distress, shall be rewarded by the Confederation. The task of arranging the matter is to be confided to the Foreign Office of the Confederation.

THERE is a noteworthy communication in the Economist, which anticipates the report of the Paris High Council of Commerce on international coinage. The correspondent states that thirty out of thirty-seven witnesses who appeared before the council urged strongly the adoption of the twenty-five franc coin as the unitary gold piece, and the discontinuance of the five-franc silver piece. The council will recommend that these views be carried into practical effect.

ACCORDING to the city article of the Times, American railroad mortgage bonds at Frankfort, ceasing to attract buyers, city and State bonds are being tried. Those of the city of Savannah have been introduced, and others of the city of New York and the State of Illinois are to follow to the extent of a few millions at 7 per cent. interest. The writer adds that the transactions of the Erie Railway Company and the bribing of the courts of law account for the fact that New York city bonds can find no market.

FABER's speaking machine is attracting attention in Germany. It pronounces each letter distinctly, and even laughs and sings. German philologists have heretofore declared it to be impossible to imitate the letter l (as pronounced in German) by artificial means, but this machine speaks the word Mississipi very plainly. During a performance at Berlin, a slip of paper, containing the words, "Long live King William of Prussia," was handed to Mr. Faber, and correctly pronounced by the machine, whereupon there was a great deal of applause.

THE two Russian peasants who murdered the Austrian Prince d' Aremberg have been sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment, with hard labor, in the mines of Siberia. During the examination it was elicited that the murderers before going to their horrible work, stepped into a little church near the palace where the unfortunate Prince resided, and most devoutly implored a blessing from the Virgin Mary on the guilty undertaking. Among Russian thieves the custom is prevalent of kneeling before the statue of the Virgin (one of which is found in every Russian household) on entering a house, and saying a hurried prayer, after which something is thrown over the face of the statue that the Virgin Mary may not witness the crime that is about to be committed.

To Bishop Pie of Poitiers must forever belong the great glory of having discovered a new and absolutely unanswerable argument in favor of infallibility. Said this holy, astute, intellectual and learned prelate in the midst of his compeers of the Œcumenical Council: "As St. Peter was crucified head downward, thus supporting the whole weight of his body on his head, so Pio Nono, his successor, bears upon himself the whole weight of the church, he being its head! Ergo, he who supports it is infallible, not that which is supported." This wonderful and convincing argument was received with immense enthusiasm by the Italian and Spanish prelates. But there were divers holy fathers from other countries who looked somewhat glum, in consequence of not being able to appreciate this very logical proposition and its sequence.

THE London News says: "A proposal has been started at Rochester—probably consequent upon the reported early sale of the Gadshill house and grounds—having for its object the purchase and preservation of Charles Dickens' favorite abiding-place as a national momento of of this popular author. It is suggested that the house should be retained by Mr. Dickens' family for a term, to be named by themselves, at the expiration of which, with their consent, the place will merge in trustees. Dickens passed the morning and afternoon of his last day on earth in the chalet, presented to him by a few Swiss admirers two years since, which is erected in the shubbery opposite his residence, and approached by a tunnel under the turnpike road. This chalet, embosomed in the foliage of some very fine trees, stands upon an eminence commanding a magnificent view of the mouth of the Thames, and the opposite coast of the Essex. It was a favorite retreat of Dickens."

THE speech of Cardinal Prince Schwarzenberg in Œcumenical Council is said to have caused a sensation. He began in this remarkable manner: "Pope Benedict XIII. once instructed his College of Cardinals always to tell him the truth, no matter how disagreeable it might be, and on this request of a predecessor of his present Holiness, I base my right, as a Cardinal and a Bishop of the Catholic Church, to speak as I stand here, the whole truth, without respect to persons; and to reveal my own convictions without reserve. And I protest in advance against and noisy marks of disapprobation from those who may hold different opinions, as well as the withdrawal of the floor by the President, to which I shall not submit." From this it may be inferred that the tenor of his talk was not altogether satisfactory to the Papal faction; but his determined attitude had the effect of producing a rare silence among all parties while he delivered a speech of an hour and a half length.

ONE evening recently Victor Emanuel was at the Politiama Theatre in Florence. In a box adjoining the royal loggia, some ladies, who had a fancy for the near atmosphere of the King, and a possible sovereign smile, had established themselves. One of them, so far forgetting the proprieties of the place, and the respect due to royalty, from behind the fortress of her fan began to let fly at the King smiles, familiar glances, and finally words of sweet and winsome tone. This royalty is gallant enough, as all the world knows, but never was royalty any where subjected in public to be so outraged. The King's face became red, purple and black with rage, and the order was given for the box to be cleared. But the officer was unable to execute the order without a scene which attracted the attention of the whole theatre; for who ever knew a resolute lady not disposed to stand up boldly for her real or supposed rights? This one left the field with a lofty air, stamping her protest with emphasis upon the floor, and beating it upon the wall with her shut fan. The box has since been bought by order of the King.

THE Warren Mail says: Some years ago there were some promising oil developments at Garland, but the search was not continued. JOHN G. SAXE the Democratic poet objects to the celebration of Decoration day in memory of the soldiers because when living they were "robbed all the days in the year." The reason of this assertion only become apparent when we learn that he had one line written ending with "memories dear" and a rhyme was absolutely necessary.

THE following dreadful case of accidental shooting is thus told by the Boston Post: A careful Pennsylvanian waited till his wife went to the barn for hen's eggs, and then tried his new gun with a load of buckshot and the side of the barn as a target. The doctor picked the shot out of her, and the husband will have to wait the slow process of divorce before he can marry the woman of his choice.

THE INDIAN moccasins made by the wild Indians of the west are very different from those purchased at Niagara Falls and other points on the eastern frontier. The latter are of wash leather, profusely covered with beads, while the moccasins made by the Sioux squaws are made of fine white buckskin, beautifully tanned and dressed. The instep is an ornamental piece of variegated porcupine strips, set in and braided together as basket work. The seams are all in the upper part, the sewing being done with fine selected sinews of the deer. At the ankle is attached a high encircling flap, in which buckskin thongs are inserted to wind about the leg and tie in front. The moccasins made for the Indians are marked with distinguishing characteristics, so that the trace indicates the tribe to which the wearer belongs. Thus two little tabs, wide apart, on the heel, indicates the Dakota or Sioux; one marks the Winnebago, and three the Chippewa. Moccasins are extensively worn by the whites in the far west, by the women as slippers, and by the men in long journeys on foot. The Sioux moccasin, cheap and durable, is considered the best for service, and brings from 50 cents to $1 50 in specie.

UNDER date of July 1st the Washington correspondent of the Boston Sunday Herald writes that among the political movements incubating there, that controlled by representatives of the workingmen's organization attracts no inconsiderable attention. It is stated that it has nine hundred thousand enrolled voters who are about evenly divided between the Democratic and Republican parties; that they do not intend to support either the Republican or Democratic candidate for the Presidency, but to call a National Convention in advance of the political conventions, and to nominate in it a Presidential ticket. This course, it is maintained, will compel the Democratic party to abandon making a nomination and to take up the nominees of the Workingmen's Convention, who, it is assumed with considerable confidence, will carry every State in the Union. The new party proposes to go before the country on a progressive civil service platform, with reduced taxation, reduced expenditures and reform and retrenchment generally, with the elevation and protection of American labor, and especially opposition to the importation of Chinese. The writer avers that there is unmistakably a solid foundation for the movement, and that already several Presidential candidates are mentioned, Gov. Geary, of Pennsylvania, being the most prominent, with Gens. Logan and Ewing for Vice-President.

THE SOLDIERS.

Plain Words to the "Reformists."

MESSRS EDITORS GAZETTE: Permit me through the columns of your journal to bring a few facts to the notice of my fellow comrades.

In 1862 and '63 some of the same gentlemen who managed the so-called Independent Republican Convention of yesterday, held out the inducement, that all men who enlisted in their country's cause should on their return from the army be selected to fill the various offices within the gift of the people. We all know these doctrines were proclaimed at every meeting held to raise volunteers, and reiterated again, and again, by all Republican conventions. Now, sirs, I would inquire what did they do for us yesterday? Did they nominate one man who had served his country in the late struggle for the nation's life? No, sirs. When some two or three of their brave boys who have lost their limbs in their country's service, and carry other battle scars on their persons, were suggested to the convention yesterday, as suitable persons, what was the result? One received 18 votes, the other 12 votes! When one of the delegates, whose name was often referred to as one of the "heavy" signers to the call, and who gave his presence to the Convention the entire day, was reminded of their insult to the soldiers, and was told the genuine Republican Convention would nominate soldiers, remarked "The soldier element is played. They are no better than any other citizens." Such was the feeling at the so-called Republican Convention yesterday, But Messrs. Editors, we will show these "Sunday Boys" before the fight is over that the soldier has rights, rights he has fought for and dare maintain. Comrades, your duty is before you. "Up guards and at them," was the orders of 1861, '2, 3, 4 and 5. Let it be the same in 1870, and we'll show these so-called Reformers that the spirit of those days still live.

Trial of Agricultural Implements.

[Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MANSFIELD, OHIO, July 6, 1870.

The great trial of field machines continues with unabated interest. The entries now number one hundred and one machines.

The trial of mowers consumed the entire day. The machines are all in readiness for the reaping contest, which is expected to commence to-morrow.

There are powerful influences at work to favor certain machines, but nothing can affect the action of the Committee.

Pittsburgh is well represented here. W. W. Knox, of agricultural notoriety, and J. Reed arrived this morning. H. B. Long, of "Champion" celebrity, is expected to-morrow.

The interest increases as the trial progresses. Much will depend on the reaping, as the quality of the grass for mowing was not such as to make a complete test. Horse wheeled hay rakes, hay tedders and other harvesting and barn tools were introduced and tried to-day. A new device for gathering and bunching hay showed great originality. Enquiry was made for Rodger's Harper Fork, but it was not present.

To-morrow will develop greater interest and I shall particularize by letter.

[Special Correspondence to Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MANSFIELD, Ohio, July 7, 1870.

When Sinneus conceded to Indian corn the Bottameal name of zea maize, from the Greek word zao—to live—he could not have selected a more appropriate name for this the most important of all grains than the more modern utilitarian philosopher who styled the reaper and mower a "humanizing invention." In confirmation of this I need only refer you to the contest to-day by horse power and the exhausted condition of a man in an adjoining field wielding a scythe. No field convenience or labor saving invention has done more to lessen the labors of the farmer than the mower and reaper. This trial has been inaugurated to find out whose machines are the best and there is no man who has entered in competition but has confidence of the capacity and of the ability of his machine to both mow and reap. I feel confident there is not a machine on the ground but will do better work than can be done by hand; also, that the labor to the team is lighter than ploughing, or most any other farm work. To-day's programme is the same as indicated in my dispatch, and the process of testing and examining the different machines will probably continue till to-morrow. Every machine is taken apart and its mechanical construction carefully examined, each piece and part closely scrutinized, as is also tests of side pressure, draft in and out of grass, starting without locking, &c. The close police arrangements and the reticence of the Committee prevent any speculation as to points of merit as recorded in their examinations and no decision will be awarded until the next annual State Fair at Springfield, in September. Your correspondent is stopping at the Pacific House near the depot, kept by Samuel Aungst, a quiet, orderly, well conducted place, and is both convenient and comfortable. The GAZETTE is looked after with interest and the extra thousand papers were sold before they reached the trial ground. I subjoin a reference to some of the leading machines.

THE AETNA MOWER AND REAPER.

This machine is manufactured by the Ætna Manufacturing Company, Salem, Ohio, and occupies a prominent position in the field, and stands high with farmers who have used it. It is the invention of Mr. Rank, President of the company, and possesses many points of interest and superiority. It is the only machine in use that has a complete changeable gear, and which can be altered at pleasure to a slow or fast motion without stopping the team. This device is not only simple, but efficient, and the value of such a combination is too apparent to need explanation. The Ætna is a two-wheeled machine, with stubble cutter bar; is both a reaper and a mower, and readily changed from one to the other. It can be thrown in and out of gear when in motion, altered to any height at the option of the driver, is easily understood and managed, and can by no possible usage get out of order. It cuts a neat, smooth, wide swarth, with little drift and ease to both man and team. All sizes were put to trial in mowing, and the machines as well as the work were highly complimented. The Ætna is a condensed machine, and I shall refer to its merits as a reaper hereafter, as well as Rank's new self-rake, which will be tested in reaping. This rake has created considerable interest, and its working is anxiously looked after, both by manufacturers and farmers. It promises to supercede anything in use. For lightness, simplicity, strength and general adaptability to the purpose intended it has no equal. Sold by W. W. Knox, Pittsburgh.

THE WORLD MOWER AND REAPER.

Although built at Canton, Ohio, this is emphatically a Pittsburgh machine, as the immense factory and machinery is owned and controlled by prominent Pittsburgh business men. The title of the company is the E. Ball Manufacturing Company. Among the principal stock holders is our genial, good-looking, noble-hearted friend, Thomas Fawcett, Esq., who stands at the helm, as treasurer. The World is the invention of Col. Ball, a veteran in the cause of promoting improved machinery. It differs from others from the fact that the gearing is cut instead of cast, and the movement is smooth and noiseless. The entire gearing is encased in a neat cast iron box, free from dirt and dust. The World is portable, readily thrown in and out of gear and is easily managed. It has met with favor and received a large number of premiums, among which were two medals at the late Louisiana State fair over all competitors. Mr. Miller and Dr. Williams, the general agents, are present, and the World is receiving considerable attention from farmers. It is sold in Allegheny city by Messrs. Price & Stewart.

THE CHAMPION.

No more appropriate name could be given this valuable field machine, and all who witnessed its workings to-day concede it to be "The king of the field." Such has become the demand for this valuable labor, time and money saving invention that three immense factories at the city of Springfield have been unable to supply the demand. The Champion is a model of mechanical skill and the perfection of the best inventive genius, and has never failed to meet every challenge whenever and wherever offered. It is built for all countries and adapted to all kinds of grain and grass, heavy or light, lodged or standing, wet or dry, on rough as well as smooth ground, level or hilly; all side draft as well as weight on the horses' necks is avoided, and the machine is of permanent and substantial construction. The draft is light, and it can be made to cut as low as desired, or altered to any height at pleasure. No machine in the field has received more favor from the public. Wm. Whitely, of the firm of Whitely, Fassler & Kelly, is present, and is congratulated by hosts of farmers. The Champion is sold in Pittsburgh by H. B. Long, agent for western Pennsylvania.

THE "EXCELSIOR."

This machine has occupied a permanent position in the field for the past ten years and been extensively and profitably used. The main features of prominence are the invention of John F. Seiberling, of "dropper" notoriety. The dropper is the most simple of all devices for self-rakes and is used on more than fifty different patterns of machines. The "Excelsior" is built with particular reference to the dropper attachment and combines all the points of merit known in the best two wheeled machines, with points not possessed by others. The principal factories are at Akron and Massillon, Ohio. The latter is owned and managed by E. Bayless, Esq., one of the most enlightened business men in Ohio and a gentleman who has probably done as much to perfect and turn to advantage of farmers machinery that would stand the test of trial and usage as any man in the State. The iron clad Excelsior is particularly prominent and popular, and the many testimonials of approval voluntarily awarded it by farmers who have used it cannot but be flattering. In the neighborhood of ten thousand Excelsiors were sold this year.

W. W. Knox, is the Pennsylvania Agent.

THE RUSSELL MOWER AND REAPER.

This is manufactured at Massillon, Ohio, by Russel & Co., well known as the most extensive manufacturers of threshing machines in the United States. The Mower is the invention of Mr. Miller, a member of the firm, and has been prominently before the public for ten years. It is noted for great strength and durability, and at the same time is wieldy and easy on both driver and team. It has been the aim of the manufacturers to present and keep before the public only such implements and machines as would stand the test of trial and usage, and as is certified to by farmers themselves with the most remarkable success. Their machinery has been introduced into every State and Territory of the nation, Cuba, Australia, South America, and many parts of Europe, and its merits certified to by thousands of farmers who have used it. The company have always relied on the real merits of their machinery for success, and such has become the demand for it that additional buildings have from time to time been required to fill orders. They are now erecting additional shops at the city of Canton, to be devoted exclusively to building mowers and reapers. They build all combinations of the latter, including self-rake and dropper.

PERSONAL.

Nearly all the prominent reaper men in the country are here, among whom I would name Lewis Miller, of Akron, the great Buckeye inventor; Capt. John A. Eanshaw, of reaping driving machine notoriety; John Seiberling, the inventor of the dropper, and his partner and financial friend, Mr. Miller; Clem Russell, of Russell & Co.; William Whitely, of the great Champion works; Nixon, of the Alliance Agricultural works; Rank, of the Ætna; Kirby, of D. M. Osborne; O. Catlin, the oldest machine man in the country, and who has probably sold more machines than any man living; Harry Fisher, an inventor of some prominence, and others of notoriety in the implement line.

The interest still continues, and I shall chronicle its progress. Yours, &c.,

XLIST CONGRESS.

(SECOND SESSION.)

SENATE: River and Harbor Appropriations—Report of Conference on Currency Bill. HOUSE: Deficiency Appropriations—Business from Committee on Public Lands—Legislative Voting Apparatus—Appropriations for Indemnity to English Vessels Illegally Seized—Pension Appropriations Conference Report.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 6, 1870.

SENATE.

The bill for the relief of the United States and Brazil Steam Navigation Company was passed.

Mr. McCREERY asked unanimous consent to take up the bill for the relief of seventy-five Kentuckians from political disabilities.

Mr. DRAKE objected, because the bill contained the names of persons who persisted in holding office in defiance of the Fourteenth amendment.

Mr. DRAKE presented a petition for the incorporation of colored people of Memphis under the name of American Lincoln Association.

A bill to incorporate the U. S. Freehold Land and Immigration and to confirm certain proceedings in the Territory of Colorado was considered during the morning hour.

Mr. ABBOTT, from the Committee on Pacific Railroads, reported an amendment to the bill incorporating the extension of the railway.

Mr. WILSON moved to set apart Thursday evening for the consideration of the conference report on the army bill. He could not agree that railroad land companies should further monopolize the time of the Senate.

After discussion the motion was agreed to.

The Vice-President announced the Conference Committee on the Funding bill—Messrs. Sherman, Sumner and Davis.

The House River and Harbor Appropriation bill was taken up.

Mr. CHANDLER, chairman of Committee on Commerce, stated many meritorious amendments had been suggested, but the Committee had reported back the House bill without amendment. He hoped the Senate would stand by the Committee.

Amendments were adopted appropriating $75,000 for the removal of obstructions in Town Creek, near Charlestown, $100,000 for improvement of the channel at the mouth of Cape Fear River, $42,000 for Patapsco River, $12,000 for Susquehanna River, $17,500 for Bayou Teche, La., $5,000 for Long Bridge at Washington.

Other amendments were rejected, viz: $200,000 for James River, and $100,000 for Wilmington; also an amendment by Mr. SCOTT, for the appointment by the Secretary of War of three engineers to examine bridges now erected or in process of erection across the Ohio river, and report at the next session whether such bridges do or will interfere with the free navigation of said river, also the extent of span required to prevent obstruction to navigation.

The bill was reported to the Senate, and the amendments made in Committee of the Whole agreed to.

The appropriation for James and Appomattox rivers was reduced to $50,000, and surveys of Narragansett Bay and Charleston harbor provided for, and the bill passed.

Mr. MORRILL, Me., from Conference Committee on the Currency bill, made a report. The bill is as passed by the Senate, except that the amount of new currency was fixed at fifty-four million instead of forty-five million.

In reply to inquiries by Messrs. Conkling and Trumbull, Mr. WILLIAMS stated the Comptroller of Currency was to provide immediately for the distribution of this increased circulation of fifty-four millions, giving the western States what they were entitled to under the existing law, and that as soon as the census returns for 1870 were in, a redistribution was to be made.

Mr. TRUMBULL thought it extraordinary to provide for the establishment of banks for taking up the additional fifty-four millions within the next three months, and then to require a redistribution a few months later.

Mr. SHERMAN replied that under the existing law it would take ninety days to organize a bank, and therefore the census returns would be ascertained before any bank could be established.

Mr. TRUMBULL said there would then be no distribution under the existing law.

The report was adopted.

The Senate resumed the consideration of the Naval Appropriation bill, and took recess.

Evening Session.—The bill passed incorporating the United States Freehold and Immigration Company, and to confirm certain legislative institutions of Colorado and New Mexico.

Mr. TRUMBULL opposed the bill as creating a gigantic land monopoly in the hands of non-residents, which would absorb all the valuable land of the two territories.

The Oriental Steamship Company bill to encourage the establishment of a line of steamships under the flag of the Union for the conveyance of mails of the United States to European ports, India and China via Suez Canal, was discussed and recommitted to the Postoffice Committee.

The bill for refunding Massachusetts interest on advances to the United States during the war of 1812, was passed.

Adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. BECK introduced a bill granting lands to the New Orleans and Selma Railroad and Emigrant Association. Referred.

Mr. FERRY reported a post route bill. Passed.

Mr. SMITH introduced a bill to amend the act of 1864 granting lands for railroad purposes in Iowa. Referred.

Mr. DAWES, of Massachusetts, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported the deficiency bill, which was made the special order for to-morrow. The bill appropriates $1,725,488, including one million for the expense of taking the census.

On motion of Mr. BINGHAM, Friday was assigned to business of the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. CESSNA, from the Committee on Elections, made a report in the Indiana contested election case of Reid vs. Julian, that Julian, sitting member, was duly elected, and entitled to retain his seat, and that Reid should be paid the expenses incurred by him.

Mr. RANDALL presented a minority report, taking opposite views.

Mr. CESSNA gave notice he would call up the matter for action next Tuesday.

Mr. JULIAN, from Committee on Public Lands, reported a bill repealing the act of June 12th, 1866, which confirmed the grant of certain lands to Jos. E. Domingues, in Cal. He made a brief statement of the facts in the case, showing the claim was a gross fraud.

The bill passed without opposition.

Mr. JULIAN also reported a bill defining swamps and overflowed lands.

Mr. SARGENT offered an amendment providing the bill shall not be construed as repealing any provision of the act of July, 1866, or as abrogating any of the rights confirmed thereby.

Mr. JULIAN explained the necessity of the bill and informed the House that the practice under the swamp land act has been to have lands surveyed after a freshet and in this way millions of acres have gone into the clutches of State authorities and been dealt out to speculators in great bodies without adherence to any rule or definition that would protect the rights of the United States. Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana had thus got 28,000,000 acres, mostly dry land. California was in the same predicament. There were yet several million acres remaining not confirmed as swamp titles, the titles to which yet remained in the United States, and it was the object of the bill to save this land. He characterized the way in which the swamp land act had been carried out as a huge, frightful conspiracy against civilization and the rights of the people.

Mr. JOHNSON described the bill itself as a monstrous attempt at robbery.

The bill was further opposed by Messrs. Conger, Rogers and Allison.

Mr. HOLMAN moved to table it. Rejected.

On motion of Mr. JULIAN, the bill was postponed till the third Wednesday of December.

Mr. WINANS, from Committee on Public Lands, reported a bill to cede the State of Ohio unsold lands in the Virginia Military District in Ohio.

After explanation by Messrs. Winans and Wilson, of Ohio, the bill passed.

Mr. HAWLEY, same committee, reported bill confirming the title in St. Clair county, Illinois, to certain United States lands. Passed.

Mr. WINANS reported a bill relinquishing to the corporation of Fremont, Ohio, a certain parcel of ground in Fremont county. Passed.

Also, a bill authorizing the issuing to Stephen Marston, of Hartford, Conn., a patent for certain lands in Michigan. Passed.

On motion of Mr. MYERS, the bill to pay $25,000 to the daughters of Jethro Wood, inventor of the cast iron plow, was, by suspension of the rules, passed—yeas 108, nays 54.

Mr. FERRY, from the Committee on Rules, reported a resolution directing the legislative voting apparatus invented by W. M. Springer to be placed in the hall of the House during the recess, at a cost not exceeding $20,000.

On motion of Mr. DICKEY it was tabled—88 to 80.

Mr. DAWES, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported several bills carrying into effect the decrees of certain courts in cases of English vessels illegally seized by United States cruisers, which passed.

During the reading of the bills Mr. BUTLER (Mass.) expressed an unwillingness to vote for them while within the last week six American fishing vessels had been captured by British war vessels and carried into Canadian ports.

Mr. CALKINS also declared himself opposed to the payment of these claims until indemnity was given by the British Government for damages done by the Alabama.

Mr. DAWES stated the rule which governed the Committee in these cases was that the American Government should do right itself and thus be stronger in its demands on other governments to do right. He should be sorry to follow the example of the British Government.

Mr. MAYNARD asked Mr. Dawes whether he did not seriously think it proper to let these claims be deferred and come in as a credit to the large claim of the United States against the British government?

Mr. DAWES replied he not only did not think well of such proposition, but he thought that in the face of the negotiations, put by the United States government on the high ground of justice, it would be suicide and the height of folly for the United States government to say, "We will do the same to you that you have done to us." He should be ashamed were he to be a negotiator to be backed up by retaliation of that kind. It would be unworthy of a great nation to undertake to enforce its claim on another government by any such small method of retaliation. He also stated that the aggregate amount appropriated in these bills was $685,882, with interest.

Mr. SCHENCK offered a resolution calling on the Secretary of the Treasury for a statement as to the public debt since the organization of the government. Adopted.

Mr. SCHENCK, from the Committee of Ways and Means, reported a bill relating to moneys paid into the United States Courts. Recommitted.

Also, a bill authorizing G. W. Dick, of Butler county, Ohio, to import from Scotland free of duty a common road steam locomotive for experimental purposes. Passed.

Also, a bill to allow the Secretary of the Treasury to increase the pay of Inspectors of Customs. Passed.

Mr. HOOPER, from the same Committee, reported a bill to construe the act of March 31st, 1868, chapter 41, so as not to prohibit the drawback provided for by section six of the act of July 13th, 1866, chapter 184, of as many cents per pound of cotton cloth, yarn, thread or knit articles manufactured exclusively from cotton, and exported prior to May 1st, 1869, as shall have been assessed and paid, in the form of tax upon the raw cotton entering into the manufacture of such cloth and other articles. Passed.

Mr. POLAND introduced a bill in aid of the American Cable Company. Referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

Mr. FITCH reported a bill to make the Territory of Arizona a separate surveying district and establish the office of Surveyor General therein. Passed.

Mr. SMITH, of Iowa, reported a bill to vacate Fort Dakota military reservation in Dakota. Passed.

The Senate bill to create a port of delivery at Duluth was reported back by Mr. FINKELNBURG, from the Committee on Commerce, amended by attaching Duluth to the collection district of Lake Superior, instead of New Orleans, and passed.

The motion to reconsider the vote on Saturday in the Louisiana contested election case was tabled—96 to 77, and the oath of office administered to Mr. Dorrell.

Mr. KELSEY, from Conference Committee on Pension and Appropriation bill, made a report, which was agreed to. The question in dispute was as to the Navy pension fund, which the House wanted to have covered into the Treasury and to have the Naval pensions paid as all others are. A compromise was agreed upon to leave the fund as it is, but directing that no payment be made out of it except on appropriations made by Congress, and that the Secretary of the Navy shall annually submit to Congress estimates of claims and demands chargeable upon and payable out of it.

The case of Pat. Woods, who assaulted Representative Porter, was discussed without action till 5:20, when the House adjourned.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHEYENNE, WY., July 6.—A telegram from Rawlins reports the return of Capt. Dews. He found a camp of Utes one hundred miles south of that point on the war path. The evidence is that they are responsible for the recent depredations committed in that vicinity. As they claim to be at peace with the whites they were not molested.

Information from Fetterman says the Cheyennes are reported to have killed three white men at Sweetwater river recently. The Arapahoes stole forty head of stock near South Pass. One Arapahoe chief was killed in the fight. All the Northern Cheyennes and the Arapahoes, who have hitherto been peaceable, announce their intention to go on the war path.

Red Cloud and band are camped on Tongue river, north of Fetterman. It is believed outside of the Indian ring that he is collecting his tribes for the purpose of war on the whites.

The Spanish King Sensation—Talk of War—Excited Tone of the French Press—Scene in the Corps Legislatif—Rumored Recall of the French Minister at Berlin—Massacre of Christians in Pekin—The Ecumenical Council.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

FRANCE.

PARIS, July 6.—The Constitutionnel to-day says: We learn that the Government would consider the Spanish enthronement of the Prince of Hohenzollern as a check and menace to France. Under these circumstances the government has decided to energetically oppose the project.

Prime Minister Ollivier gave a grand banquet last evening. A great crowd of people were present, among whom were General Prim, Baron Werther, the Prussian Ambassador. The latter left early in the evening, which fact gave rise to much comment, many asserting that France would have a just cause of war if the candidature of the Prince of Hohenzollern were insisted upon. Late yesterday afternoon, after his interview with the Emperor, M. Ollivier saw the Duke of Grammont, the Minister of Foreign Affairs and the Ambassador from Spain. The result of these meetings was a firm and energetic note to Baron Werther. Immediately on its receipt the Baron departed for Ems to meet the King of Prussia. There is considerable excitement in commercial circles here.

In the Corps Legislatif to-day Duke Grammont said it was true that General Prim had offered the throne of Spain to the Prince of Hohenzollern, who accepted it, but the people of Spain had not pronounced on the transaction, and France had yet to know the details of affairs, which had been conducted in secrecy. The French Government would persist in its policy of neutrality, but under no pretext would it permit the German powers to place one of its Princes on the throne of Charles the Fifth. He hoped, however, prudence in Germany and wisdom in Spain would avert extremities. The Paris journals unanimously oppose the project of General Prim.

An exciting scene occurred in the Corps Legislatif to-day. After the declaration made by the Minister of Foreign Affairs, M. Picard demanded further information for the Chamber. It was the first duty of deputies not to allow France to be engaged in war without the assent of her representatives. M. Cremieux supported the demand, and added that war now meant war with Europe. He protested that he and his friends deemed peace imperative unless their own and the dignity of France required war. M. Ollivier said the declaration of Grammont left no doubt that the Government ardently desired peace and he felt sure that the declaration would secure peace. The Chamber must know the Government sought to attain its object in a straight forward manner. If it wanted war, it would say so. It would not engage France without consulting the Chambers. The latter should decide. If they had no confidence in the Cabinet they must throw it aside and confide the interests of the country to others deemed more worthy.

M. St. Claire asked by what right Gen. Prim offered the Crown to the Prince of Hohenzollern? M. Ollivier said he could not answer the question, as he was not yet informed of the negotiation. Some of the Deputies exclaimed, then, the Minister of Foreign Affairs had been imprudent in making his declaration. M. Arago wished to speak, but the President declared the debate closed. M. Arago replied the government must be afraid of discussion. He accused it of having made a Hohenzollern King and then declaring war.

The President demanded order and endeavored to bring up the budget as the question for debate, but the deputies replied with patriotic sentiments. The chamber was too excited to discuss finances and the sitting was dissolved.

Le Pays, Imperialist, publishes a violent article crying out for war. France, it declares, has recent diplomatic defeats as well as Waterloo to avenge, and Frenchmen are ready to take the same road to Jena and Berlin which their fathers took.

French journals call attention to the fact that the German fleet is now cruising in the Mediterranean. The Berlin press had represented it was simply an excursion, but now the fact appears portentious to French interests.

It is reported that Admiral Topete will separate from Prim, if Hohenzollern is proclaimed a candidate for the throne, and that he would prefer Prince Alfonso to a Prussian for king.

It is asserted the French Minister at Berlin was recalled to-day. The Spanish Ambassador here was sent for to-day by the Emperor, with whom he had a long interview.

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, July 6.—The Morning Post has a telegram dated at Tientsin, June 25th, giving the particulars of a terrible massacre of Christians by the natives at Pekin, on the 21st of that month. The Count De Rochechouart, the French Secretary of Legation, and a number of priests and Sisters of Mercy were ruthlessly slaughtered. The cathedral was also burned, and a number of Russians killed.

E. J. Morris, American Minister, attended the festivities in Constantinople on the anniversary of the accession of the Sultan, and wore a black dress suit in accordance with the recommendation of his government. The circumstance excited much comment.

At a special meeting of the stockholders of the Great Western Railway of Canada to-day the directors were authorized to subscribe all the stock in the Air Line Railway from Glencoe to Buffalo and proceed immediately with the construction of the road.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 111⅝@111¾.

THE "reform" men hope to accomplish a fusion with the regulars. The regulars will give them confusion enough.

THE German Republican element will seek in vain to discover a single representative on the ticket put forward by the "reformists" yesterday. Carnahan, Kirk & Co. evidently didn't like the Germans.

SOME witless friends presented in yesterday's Convention MILES HUMPHREYS, the mechanic, for the Legislative nomination. They learned, however, that the "heavy signers" don't take much stock in the worth of "greasy mechanics."

WITH two unimportant exceptions, the slate of candidates fixed up in the office of R. B. Carnahan, Esq., was put through the minority convention yesterday. Ah! Carnahan and Kirk, why didn't you make the delegates you clothed with power to represent the people swallow the whole pill.

MOORHEAD was not nominated for Congress, Carnahan was not mentioned for the Senate, Kirk was not named for Coroner, and Caruthers won't be a candidate for the Legislature. Come home, dear fathers, come home! You could not have been worse treated in the regular Republican Convention.

THE mouthpiece of purity and reform will probably have the impudence to assert to-day that the disorderly conclave of committee-constituted delegates which assembled yesterday, faithfully represented the people, and that the proceedings were marked with peace, order and harmony. If it assert to the contrary we will imagine that the hot weather is frightening it to the side of truth.

POOR KIRK! His power in the Convention was weak. He could not get out of the adopted viva voce plan of voting, and notwithstanding his effort to have a motion prevail to conceal his own vote, he had to face the music. How many he had promised to support we know not, but had he marked secretly, David Kirk, after all his friends had deserted him, might have figured with one vote on the tally list.

THE Commercial calls attention to the fact that last year without any primary meetings the temperance men succeeded in accomplishing the defeat of the regular Republican candidate for Commissioner. That is true, but not significant. The temperance men acted from principle and presented their arguments in such manner as to enlist the sympathy and co-operation of all friendly to the good cause espoused, and hence, they received the creditable vote which threw the election of Commissioner to Mr. McGee, Democrat. That instance cannot be compared with the revolutionary movement now in progress. It was honest, if unwise; the present is neither wise nor honest. It had many leaders who were not disappointed office hunters and political quacks, but men who endeavored to work out a good problem in a wrong way. The third party organizers,—those who designed the primary meetings and wore out their boots in running after thoughtless citizens to borrow their names, and finally those who, when they found themselves repudiated by the people, took the responsibility of selecting delegates and making up the ticket for the Convention,—can lay no claims to principles or simple honesty, but mean only to ruin the Republican party. They cry reform, while in their hearts they desire to deceive the people with hypocritical cant and to some time or another ride into place and power to plunder in the name of honesty. Between them and the true temperance leaders of last fall no comparison can be drawn, and none appreciate the fact better than the people.

THE BOLTERS' CONVENTION.

After putting forth the most Herculean efforts, the bolters succeeded in collecting sixty delegates into their disintegrating convention, held yesterday in the District Court Room. These sixty delegates represented, professedly, fifty districts out of the one hundred and five of the county. But not more than ten districts sent delegates duly certified, and even in these the primary elections were of the most farcical character, as not more than from one to five votes were cast in any of them. Yet these sixty self-elected men claimed, as the resolutions adopted show, to be not merely the representatives of the people, but the people themselves.

In the call for the Convention the people were requested to discard "the professional office hunter and the professional delegate," but it is a remarkable fact that the gentleman who called the meeting to order and the permanent Chairman have been professional delegates and office hunters for many years. The latter has grown fat on the official Federal pap which he supped most greedily for some eight years, and has figured frequently as a delegate in political conventions. The former has been an unsuccessful candidate for several offices, and at present, if our memory does not deceive us, holds some one or two official positions. The honesty and sincerity of those who engineered the movement, and promised to discard "the professional delegate and office seeker" are at once apparent. In the very vestibule of the Convention then, a falsehood shone forth in flaming characters!

The concocters of the nefarious scheme to disrupt the Republican party, with a view of throwing the election next fall into the hands of the Democracy, have called lustily but most hypocritically for the correction of abuses. It is an easy thing to call for reform, but there were sufficient indications in the convention yesterday to show that the members are divided in sentiment among themselves, and need reformation. With all their braggadocio about what they would do in Convention towards the reformation of political evils, they did not propose a single plan, by which the abuses they complained of might be rectified. On the contrary, the grossest abuses were tolerated. Delegates were admitted to seats without the least shadow of evidence that they were entitled to them. And when a motion was made that no delegate be admitted to a seat unless he presented the proper credentials, it was laid on the table. In the face of this action, a Committee was appointed on Contested Seats! How, in the name of common sense, could any committee give a decision in relation to the right of delegates to occupy seats, when a formal election was not held in any district, except ten, and no credentials were required? But in their frantic madness the ringleaders are ready for every disorder, and will stop at no iniquity, however hideous.

From the report of the proceedings given in an evening cotemporary yesterday, which has endorsed the movement, it is evident that there was a strong element in the Convention in favor of adjourning, and abiding by the nominations to be made by the Republican party in August next. But the political fire-eaters would listen to no counsel of that kind. They will never feel satisfied so long as they see Mordecai sitting even at the King's gate. They can only be lulled with the golden cake of a State or Federal office, which some of them have tried to, but never could secure, and from which others have been rather ingloriously ejected. Hinc illæ lachrymæ.

The resolutions passed propose nothing new. They contain not a word about a change in the mode of electing delegates, or holding conventions. Our bolting friends, after all their pretensions, marched up the hill, merely to march down again. We are informed that some members of their committees, finding on the eve of the convention, that they had got into the worst kind of a "ring," and fearing they might be like the man in the "iron chest," washed their hands clean of the corrupt wire-workers, left in disgust, and did not even look in the direction of the Court House during the day.

DEEPEST! BASEST!! BLACKEST FRAUD!!!

We hope none of our readers will fail to read the following extracts, which reveal the basest and most detestable fraud that ever was attempted to be perpetrated on an intelligent community. Speaking of one of our city papers the Commercial of yesterday says:

"It asserts that persons 'patroled' certain wards on Saturday without finding the primary elections of the True Republicans. Very likely. That they did not find them, shows how perfect the arrangements were. For years a class of persons have done little else than run primary elections, by 'running in' voters, or smashing things generally, as best suited them. It was very natural that quiet Republicans should seek to keep out of the way of this class of patriots, and hold their meetings in peace. The 'organ' and its friends looked into 'the old places,' and because they found no meetings there concluded that no meetings could have been held. Never were leaders more mistaken—one of a series of mistakes which the ringleaders are making in regard to the True Republicans."

Compare the above with the following paragraph, which we extract from the bolters' call, which was published on the 23d ult., and to which the names of many respectable citizens were appended:

"Under these circumstances we call on the Republicans of Allegheny county to come out and form a ticket for themselves. For this purpose we invite you to meet in your respective election districts at the place appointed by law for holding elections, on Saturday, the second day of July next, between the hours of four and seven o'clock P. M., and discarding the professional office-hunter and the professional delegate, select two of your best citizens as delegates to a Convention to meet at the Court House, in the city of Pittsburgh, on the Wednesday following, July 6th, at ten o'clock A. M., for the purpose of nominating a Republican Congressional, Legislative and County ticket, and also to provide an improved method of making nominations in the future."

But this is not all. At a meeting of the voters, held on the first instant, the following conversation, which we take from the columns of the Commercial, the correctness of which will not therefore be called in question, was had in relation to the place of holding the primary elections:

"Mr. Jesse Lippincott, of the Eight ward, said the party who controlled the voting place in that district—a saloon-keeper—was unfriendly to the new organization, and would not allow the election to be held there.

"Mr. Carnahan stated that in cases of this kind it would be necessary to hold the election as near the usual place as possible.

"Mr. Kirk suggested that a written notice be posted up in that case, stating where the election was to be held.

"Mr. Keeler said that was just the point he wished explained a little while ago. When the voters met at a certain place, what course they should pursue? How they should proceed with the election?

"Mr. Carnahan—The parties on the ground at the hour named are the proper persons to effect the organization. They simply appoint a judge and two inspectors to conduct the election and receive the votes. The judge and inspectors count the votes and give a certificate to the two delegates receiving the highest vote."

From the above extracts it is plain that some of the most respectable and distinguished citizens in this community were invited to sign a document which was a deliberate fraud. The people were invited, in the call for the new party, to "meet at the place appointed by law for holding such elections." The Commercial declares that the object of this was to deceive, as there was no intention on the part of the bolters to hold an election at the places appointed by law, the reason being, as we suppose, that disorganizers will not be bound by any law. This is the conduct of men who have been denouncing secresy, and calling for viva voce votes in Conventions. Through their organ they have shown in the first extract that they will not come to the light, lest it might be made manifest that their deeds are wrought in evil. These men, like all evil doers, hate the light, hold their meetings in private rooms and offices, and nominate themselves as delegates, and then claim that they are the representatives of the people! And all this it is unblushingly claimed, "shows how perfect the arrangements were." No matter how respectable men may be in society, we would not trust them with anything however worthless, if they would lend themselves to such a hideous fraud. No decent man will be found in company with such political tricksters as those who have been goaded on by the Commercial to practice duplicity on honest people. According to the showing of that incorruptible (!) journal no public meeting was held on Saturday for the election of delegates to the convention yesterday. Those, therefore, who attended were the representatives of themselves, and were not elected in accordance with the provisions of the public, although they may have been in accordance with the private call, in which confidential friends of the disorganizers were requested to secretly select delegates.

That there can be no mistake on this subject, we refer to the conversation quoted above, which was had in a meeting of the bolters, on the 1st instant. One of the bolters said the election for delegates should be held as near the usual places as possible. Another said that in the event of a change of place in any case, a public notice should be posted to that effect. The Commercial says all this was a part of the "perfect arrangements" that were made to prevent the people from having any voice in the matter by keeping them in the dark as to where the elections were to be held. If the place of meeting was kept secret, how could the people give an expression of their will? There never was a grosser case of false pretensions. The political history of the country does not reveal another case of fraud and deception equal to what the Commercial boasts the bolters have perpetrated. Men who would be guilty of such base conduct are unfit to be citizens of any country.

The action of a Convention, composed of men elected in such a way, will have no moral or other weight in an intelligent and religious community like this.

CHINESE LABOR.

The agitation of the question of Chinese labor has been transferred from the slopes of the Pacific to the shores of the Atlantic. The arrival in Massachusetts, a short time since, of some seventy-five Chinamen, who were imported by an enterprising shoe manufacturer of North Adams, in that State, at a cost of some five thousand dollars, has aroused the indignation of laboring men and mechanics there and elsewhere. A large meeting of the laboring men of New York was held in Tompkins' Square, in that city, one evening last week, at which powerful speeches were made and strong resolutions passed, all of which were couched in terms highly condemnatory of the introduction of Coolie laborers into the United States.

In some respects, the labor problem is a difficult one to solve, but it will be regulated by the laws of supply and demand. When railroads first went into operation in England, the proprietors of stage coach lines and their employes held indignation meetings throughout the kingdom. They supposed, most erroneously, that if railroads were to be introduced they would be deprived of the means of earning a livelihood. When this system of traveling was established in the United States, many years ago, and when we had very few railroads in operation, it was said, the farmer will suffer materially in the depreciation of the price of horse stock. But the equine species has been held at a higher rate since than ever it was previously. Before and at the time the proclamation of emancipation was issued, it was predicted that every white man would be turned out of employment, and his place be filled by a negro. Has this been the result? Has any white man been turned out of employment because negroes have received their freedom, and are acknowledged as citizens? Our apprehensions of consequences are frequently groundless.

The United States have been proclaimed, more than a thousand times, not only in fourth of July orations and political stump speeches, but in the sober utterances of learned statesmen in the halls of Congress, and deliberately and elaborately written articles in the pages of monthly and quarterly magazines, and the off-hand productions of editors in the columns of the daily press, to be "the land of the free and the home of the brave,"—an asylum for the oppressed and down trodden of every nation. And so they are. We bid a hearty welcome to Irishmen, Germans, Chinese and Japanese, and the natives of every other nation when they come to our shores and cast in their lot among us to share the privileges and blessings of our free institutions. And whether these peoples may have enjoyed the benefit of a good education or not in their native land, they soon learn the price of labor. These men who have been brought from China by Mr. Sampson, of North Adams, Massachusetts, and agreed to work for twenty-three dollars a month with lodging and fuel, will not long be content with this compensation for their labor, if they find that their services, according to the law of supply and demand, are worth double that amount.

The Chinese have as good a right to come here and live in subjection to our laws, as the natives of any other nations. But we question whether Congress should tolerate a system of importing laborers, which is only a modification of the giant evil of slavery of which the country is now happily rid. Let the Chinese come as the Irish and Germans, and those of other nationalities come, at the rate of eighty thousand a month if they will, but let there be no organized system for the importation of "John" that would degrade "Jonathan," "Patrick" or "Hans" or deprive him of a comfortable livelihood. Capital has no desire, we think, to crush labor, as a general thing, and no isolated cases should be tolerated that would eventually, in all likelihood, lead to dangerous consequences.

In giving utterance to these sentiments it is not our intention to justify or even palliate the violence shown to these strangers on their arrival in Massachusetts, nor the harsh language employed by the orators at the meeting in Tompkins Square. Labor and capital are handmaids, and naturally dependent on each other. Both have their rights, and the country will never enjoy peace and prosperity until they study more closely their mutual benefit. But let nothing be done in a lawless spirit. The law making power of the nation is able to solve the problem satisfactorily. If there is not adequate protection now, under the law, let the remedy be applied at once.

What the French think of Dickens.

A Paris correspondent writes as follows:

Charles Dickens' works are too long for French patience to get through—they want the chapters extended but over two pages, with the rivulet of text, meandering through meadows of margin. "Pickwick" was generally considered the favorite. Though "Nicholas Nickleby" was dramatized for the Ambigu Theatre, and "No Thoroughfare" for the Vaudeville, the Gallic mind was not impressed with the celebrity of Dickens, from these productions. Some three years ago, he gave a "Reading" in the salons of the British Embassy—a crowd of five hundred persons had to remain in the court yard, being unable to find a place. On the conclusion of the reading, Dickens appeared, and apologized for not being able to receive every one—that the price of the tickets—25 francs each—to be devoted to the British Charitable Fund—would be returned. "We do not want back our money," replied the Marquis of Hartford, "We only desired to hear you, and have succeeded"—and not a centime was reclaimed. It was the desire to hear and to see so genial an author, that his world of admirers crowded to his "readings." He has not left, as the gossip of the salons is agreed—

> "—One immortal, one corrupted thought,
> One line which, dying, he could wish to blot."

It is customary in France, when a mighty man in Israel falls, for his admirers to call, and subscribe their names in a Register, opened in the hall. Several strangers here called at the British Embassy, to subscribe for Dickens, and have been taken aback, when told such could not be done. The Empress is a great admirer of Dickens, and the Prince Imperial's selections of English readings were from "Pickwick," the "Carol," and "Oliver Twist." The Emperor has already commanded a bust of the deceased, for the gallery of celebrities at Versailles. It will stand beside Cobden's. More enduring than marble.

> "To live in hearts we leave behind,
> Is not to die."

Hachettte, the French publisher of the works of Dickens, received on last Saturday orders to the amount of 30,000 francs, for the complete works of the deceased.

A FEW days ago a patient called on a certain well known Parisian doctor, who is a duly qualified "Inspecteur de Morts." While waiting for the doctor's appearance in the consulting-room he felt overpowered by the heat, and fell into a deep sleep on the sofa. The doctor, on entering, endeavored to wake the sleeper, but without avail. Coming somewhat hastily to the conclusion that his patient must be dead, he rushed off to the police station, made the formal declaration of decease, and returned with two men and a litter to convey the body to the Morgue. Great was his discomfiture on finding the supposed dead man rubbing his eyes and declaring himself much refreshed by his nap. Had he slept on but an hour longer he would have come to himself on the cool marble slab, with a tap of cold water running on his head.

DENVER.

Driving of the Silver Spike on the Denver Pacific Railroad—A Grand Masonic Occasion—A Pleasant Place to Live—About Minerals, etc., etc.

[From Our Own Correspondent.]

DENVER, COLORADA TERRITORY, June 25th, 1870.

EDITORS GAZETTE: I have deferred writing you, this, my second letter, until the Denver Pacific was finished, and the silver spike driven, all of which was finally accomplished yesterday. The track was laid into town on Tuesday evening, two and two and a half miles per day having been laid for some days back, and the laying of the corner stone for the depot was done in style yesterday by the Masonic Fraternity. It would consume too much space to give you details.

All Denver was out to see it, and delegations from all the neighboring cities were present. The Masonic turnout was unusually large from all points, it being St. Johns' Day, and I have never yet witnessed anything so imposing as the Knights Templars', all mounted on coal black horses and handsomely equipped. The Kansas Pacific Railway are laying track at the east end, at the rate of two miles a day, and will commence next week from this end, and lay at the same rate, if the iron reaches here fast enough. Track laying is reduced to a science out here, and is astonishing to behold.

And now I will try and describe this city, which is bound to be one of the greatest in the west, and the MANUFACTURING POINT over and above all others.

Denver is the capital of the Territory, and advantageously situated in a slight depression in the plain nearly midway between the Territorial boundary lines from east to west, and about one third of the distance across from north to south. The course of two streams passes through the city limits, Cherry Creek, whose bed here is dry, and South Platte river, which has an unfailing flow of water.

The population is 7,000, and is rapidly increasing. The climate is delightful; for seven years out of ten the ladies of Denver have received their New Year's calls with open doors and windows. There is no disease peculiar to the country. No such thing as chills or ague is known here.

Pulmonary complaints when not too far advanced yield readily to the healthy climate, in fact this season there is a rush here of Consumptives and invalids with Asthma and Bronchitis, and all appear to be on the improve.

The days are comfortably warm, but the nights are cool and a pair of blankets is essential to comfort all the year round. The atmosphere here is a perfectly clear and sharply defined transparency which causes strangers much surprise at the facility with which they distinguish minute objects at a very long distance, being able from the streets here to distinguish single trees on the mountain 15 miles away. And on driving out to them they seem to recede as you approach them. The city is admirably laid out, streets all run at right angles. Substantial brick buildings for all business houses and public purposes. The American hotel is about the size of your St. Charles, handsomely finished with good high ceilings throughout. Another large hotel is talked of to be built shortly. They have a United States mint where gold and silver ores are assayed and stamped in bullion at a small cost, two theatres, three newspapers, a fine Episcopal Seminary and a Catholic Convent, built in modern style—French roof—eight churches, good schools, &c., and the people observe the Sabbath in proper style. Water is brought from the mountains into the streets by means of a small canal or ditch twenty-four miles long. On each side of every street is a clean gutter with fine mountain water coursing through it, and from which every residence turns it into their gardens, which this year look beautiful. Over thirty-five hundred shade trees have been set out this year, those planted two years ago are doing finely, and in some portions of the city you will find sidewalks with beautiful shade trees and a stream of water running on each side of them (say eight feet from gutter to gutter) that is cleaner to drink than your Pittsburgh water.

The inhabitants seem imbued with a spirit that Denver shall be the most beautiful of all cities in the East or West as far as streets and sidewalks are concerned. As to paving no such thing will ever be done. The roads and streets are of a hard concrete that Nature has made, and in the extreme dry or wet weather you always have a road as smooth as a floor, and in this very hard soil the finest fruits and vegetables are now raised with proper irrigation.

The citizens have lately started an artesian well, and it is already in progress as regards buildings, &c., and waiting on tools from your Mr. James Bown. The beauty of the mountains in view here I will not attempt to describe. It has been done by others. But it is well these warm days to look out of your window on the snow caps, especially the beautiful one, painted by Bierstadt and named after his affianced. As to the country around Denver, farms have been constantly laid out and fought out in spite of the Noble Indians until they are raising grain to sell. The mountain region as well as the plains are wonderfully grassed. Cattle live on it the year round without any other food. Beef is fatter at Christmas than at any other time.

It is estimated that over eight million head of stock can be sustained at once on these lands, and in one year or less you will see us shipping beef to the Chicago market. I met your late citizen, D. M. Edgerton, who is on a Ranche fifty miles south of here, and his stock is doing fine. He looks hearty and happy, and was up laying in supplies.

A few words as to minerals. For some years back I have read and heard huge stories of the minerals of Colorado and Nevada, and have sundry acquaintances who invested to their sorrow. The quantity of machinery that is scattered over this country, held for storage and sold for freight, is the best evidence of how heavily people went into it. Much of it is of the most expensive kind, which parties who understand the business are now picking up dirt cheap. First, as to Lead, Gold and Silver, the truth has not been told as to its quantity and availability. As to Iron, we have it here in good quantity and among it a stock equal to Missouri or Lake Superior, but of the finest magnetic ore. (I don't mean right at Denver, but that is where it will come to for smelting.)

Copper I have not looked into personally, but there is no doubt of its existence in large quantities.

And now as to Coal, that article on which you are all posted, I have had the opportunity to personally examine this and will give you some idea of its magnitude.

The lands well known at present, lie all along the chain of mountains for more than one hundred miles, and from the base of the mountains eastward more than seventy miles. In some places single veins are more than eighteen feet, and in others, where they overlap, there is an aggregate of fifty feet in thickness.

It has no destructive elements, burns clear, leaves little ash and no kinker qualities, the finest fuel for smelting ever found, and cannot be beat for domestic or manufacturing purposes.

Mr. Wm. H. Brown, your large Coal Merchant, has been here some time and will be here a week longer, he has examined all the Coal fields from Omaha to San Francisco, and returned to this point, his judgment is that this is the best field in the United States, and that with the minerals laying so close, this is bound to be a manufacturing section. He is making this field his base, and has now control of over ten thousand acres of it, and to-day has gone some twenty-five miles out to look after some more, it takes a man of his judgment to decide between good and bad. He has taken the refusal of a large vein of the Magnetic Iron ore, which he goes to examine next week, and as limestone is plenty, I can see the drift of his investments.

He can open the coal on a heavy rise, and back his ten ton cars right into the diggers, and never handle it till he delivers it to the different roads, which will be endless when all are built to the different mining sections. A large company of English capitalists, have taken up a large amount of coal lands within this week, and since the road is open more are coming. Phillips, your great oil man in Pennsylvania, passed through yesterday en route for Georgetown. All I have said on minerals is from personal knowledge and observation, more I could not say without trespassing on information that comes through my hands officially—will keep you posted on improvements and developments in this section.

I have just met Mr. Brown and party on return from their trip. Mr. Brown reports the coal in places good for opening, first an 18 foot vein, all veins combined forty-three feet. Iron ore—ten feet in two veins of five feet each. Copper quite rich, a vein of thirteen feet—all within thirty miles of Denver. W.

DICKENS' FUNERAL.

BY BARTLEY T. CAMPBELL.

["None but a few friends of the great author followed his remains to their final rest, and the millions of the great metropolis knew nothing of the funeral until he was interred."—London Correspondence New York Times.]

I.

From the haunts of grace and the social curse,
From the chancel din and the busy mart,
They came, like shadows, to follow the hearse
As it crept through the stricken city's heart;
While the summer air was all atune
With the saddest song ere heard in June.

II.

One of the number was saintly and fair,
With a face as pure as a lily leaf,
On which had been written, with dainty care,
The painful story of a woman's grief:
And this was Agnes, while close by her side
Clung Dora—his darling, his poor child-bride.

III.

One wore an oddly-shaped, three-cornered hat,
With never a shadow of peak or rim,
And this was Bumble: a child could tell that;
In his wake came wee Twist, and Tiny Jim.
There, too, was Paul Dombey, in neatest of shrouds,
Watching the flight of the fast-sailing clouds.

IV.

There was Nancy and Bill, walking hand in hand,
Forgetting at once their shame and sin,
And Micawber, fresh from a distant land;
Mr. Toots, and "Floy," Mr. Wegg and Winn:
While far to the rear could just be descried
Little Em'ly, trying her face to hide.

V.

Next came Cuttle, Old Sol, and "Weller," too,
The ragged toymaker, and Little Nell—
And the latter had tears in her eyes of blue;
And all of them seemed to be saying "farewell!"
As they moved onward, in saddest array,
To the silent abbey, so stern and gray.

VI.

Ah me! what a motley pageant they made—
Those children of Fancy, so dear and quaint—
And they seemed to know he, too, was a shade
Who had pitied the sinner and praised the saint;
As the abbey received the precious clay,
With the "chimes" in their ears they melted away.

HON. MOSES H. GRINNELL laid the corner stone of a soldier's monument at Sleepy Hollow on the 4th.

A BROADSIDE FOR HUMBUGS.

Incompetence and assurance generally go hand in hand, and of all the tribes of pretentious know-nothings with which society is afflicted, the unscientific "medicine men" who attempt to tamper with the health of the community are the most dangerous and the most impudent.

So much by way of Text. Now for a special and particular application.

It appears that a mushroom growth of so-called "Bitters" is springing up under different names in various localities, particularly in the Southern and Western States, which the venders have the hardihood to recommend to easy-going people, upon whom they think they can impose, as a substitute for Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, long recognized by every class as the purest and best medicated stimulant and invigorant the world affords.

The concoctions referred to being composed of worthless material, offer a larger margin for profit than that Celebrated Tonic, and hence the anxiety of dollar worshipping dealers to foist them upon the public in its place.

But "forewarned is forearmed," and all parties whom these distinguished (?) beings are endeavoring to coax and inveigle into substituting trash for a standard remedy, are hereby informed of the selfish and sordid motives which underlie the representations in question.

The great popularity and vast sales of Hostetter's Bitters cannot, of course, be seriously impaired by these "tricks of trade," but as the debilitated and suffering have a direct interest in the matter, it is only an act of common humanity to put them on their guard.

LOAN
Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Co.
The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad is completed and running from RICHMOND, VA., to the celebrated WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, in West Virginia, 227 miles. It is being rapidly extended to the Ohio river, 200 miles further making in all 427 miles.
In its progress Westward, it penetrates and opens up to market the WONDERFUL COAL DEPOSITS OF THE KANAWHA REGION IN WEST VIRGINIA. And thus brings the superior and abundant Coals of that section into communication with the IRON ORES OF VIRGINIA AND OHIO, and the WESTERN, SOUTH WESTERN AND EASTERN MARKETS.
When completed it will connect the SUPERIOR HARBOR FACILITIES OF THE CHESAPEAKE BAY with reliable navigation on the Ohio river, and thus with the ENTIRE SYSTEM OF RAILROAD AND WATER TRANSPORTATION OF THE GREAT WEST AND SOUTHWEST.
It will make a SHORT, EASY, CHEAP and FAVORABLE ROUTE from the WEST to the SEA and will command a LARGE SHARE OF THE ENORMOUS FREIGHTS seeking transportation to the coast.
It will thus become one of the most IMPORTANT AND PROFITABLE EAST AND WEST TRUNK LINES OF RAILROAD in the country, and command a trade of immense value.
The completed portion of the Road is doing a PROFITABLE AND INCREASING BUSINESS, and is fully equal in value to the whole amount of the mortgage upon the entire Line—($15,000,000.)
The loan of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company, being a FIRST MORTGAGE UPON THE ENTIRE LINE, PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENTS, WORTH WHEN COMPLETED AT LEAST $30,000,000, is therefore one of the most substantial, conservative and reliable Railroad Loans ever offered in the market, and is peculiarly adapted to the wants of

DR. WHITTIER
CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL PRIVATE DISEASES, Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produce some of the following effects as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, Pruritis, Amenorrhœa, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhœa, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE ST. (near Court House) Pittsburgh.

PROPOSALS FOR COAL.—Sealed Proposals will be received at No. 12 WYLIE STREET, until July 6th, 1870, for from six (6,000) to ten (10,000) thousand bushels of good LUMP COAL, to be delivered at the Grant School House. je30:25

PITTSBURGH MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
WEDNESDAY, July 6, 1870.

There is no improvement to note in business, and it is not likely that there will be for a month to come—trade is always dull in July, and there is no reason this year should be an exception. Country buyers, as might be expected in harvest time, are very scarce, and the country business is a big item; in fact the trade of many houses is with the country almost entirely, and the business of Pittsburgh in this respect is growing steadily every year. Until within a few years past, many country merchants would make a trip eastward once or twice a year to lay in their stocks of groceries, dry goods etc. etc; latterly, however, they have discovered that they can do fully as well, here as in the east, and thus avoid the annoyance and expense of going east.

APPLES—Are coming in pretty freely, but with a steady demand, prices are maintained $4@5¼ per bbl.

ASHES—Steady but unchanged; Common Soda, 4c; Refined, 4½c; Pearls, 9½c; Pots, 7½c.

BUTTER—There is a good shipping demand with regular sales, at 15@17 cts; choice may be quoted at 19@20.

CORNMEAL—95@$1 per bushel.

CEMENT—Sales of Louisville Hydraulic at

CARBON OIL—Is dull but firm—we quote standard brands, in a jobbing way, at 23½@24.

DRIED FRUIT—Continues dull and neglected, the season being over, and there is no good stock in market, and there is not much inquiry for common. We continue to quote nominally at 4@5 cts for Apples; 5@6 for quarter Peaches, and 7@8 for halves.

EGGS—Demand fair with sales of fresh packed at 20@21c. Arrivals moderate.

FLOUR—The market is steady with a moderate local demand, but there is no excitement; dealers are now willing to let customers have all they want, and buyers, generally are not so anxious about laying in big stocks, as they are impressed with the belief that prices are more likely to decline than advance. We continue to quote good western flours, in store, at $6½ per bbl. Fancy brands, $7½@8. Rye flour $5.

GROCERIES—The grocery market is dull, but this is always the case at this season of the year. Sugars, especially refined, are reported stronger in the east, but with the exception of a firmer feeling, there is no change to make in quotations here. New Orleans Molasses scarce and firm. Syrups very dull. Coffees unchanged.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
WEDNESDAY, July 6, 1870.

The oil market was strong and somewhat excited to-day, and with an unusually heavy volume of business in the aggregate, prices are considerable higher. No special cause can be assigned for this sudden though not altogether unexpected upward movement; the impression has prevailed for some days past that prices had touched bottom, and that the change when it did take place would be upward, but as already intimated, it come much sooner than was expected.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continue to recede steadily with five feet in the channel by the Monongahela marks. Weather clear and hot, and it begins to look as if we were on the verge of low water again; it would be as well perhaps if the river would go down and stay down for a month or six weeks, as there is very little freight here.

Two steamboatman were placed on the ticket of the "reformers" yesterday, Capt. R. C. Gray for Assembly, and Capt. Geo. Neeld for Prothonotary.

The Kate Putnam from St. Louis is due to-night.

The eldest daughter of Capt. James McDonald, aged about 9 years, died on Tuesday, of dipthera, after a very sudden illness. She was taken sick on Sunday afternoon.

Capt. Tom Shuman, an old steamboatman, is now engaged in taking the census in Fayette Co., this State.

The Collier took one of her barges out yesterday, and if she did not go last night, will depart with the other two to-day.

The towboats Ella and Samson No. 2 the former with 8,500 and the latter with 60,000 bushels of coal departed for Louisville yesterday.

The Granite State, is due here to night and will leave for Portsmouth and Cincinnati to-morrow at 12 o'clock. Passengers and shippers should bear this in mind.

—Our dispatches of yesterday report that, Capt. Cannon of the Lee and Capt. Leathers of the Natchez, were made the recipients of a banquet at St. Louis on Monday night which was largely attended by steamboatmen. No event, perhaps, since the close of the war caused so much excitement along the Mississippi river as the race between these two boats. It is generally conceded now that the Lee is the fastest boat of the two, and she ought to be, as she has 40 inch cylinders while the Natchez has only 36 inch.

—The New York Tribune is severe on steamboat racing. In noticing, editorially, the race between the Natchez and Lee it says: "The stupid boat-race on the Mississippi, over which the Western people have been excited to wager several hundred thousand dollars, has resulted, fortunately, without loss of life. We suppose that there will be, consequently, no protest against this outrage, any repetition of which ought to be prohibited and prevented."

—The Louisville papers are very much exercised in regard to the race between the R. E. Lee and Natchez, claiming it as a great victory over Cincinnati, because the former boat was built there and the latter at Cincinnati. We admit that the Lee is the fastest boat of the two, but it is more than probable if the Natchez had the same power of her rival that she would be able to run away from her. It was not a fair trial of speed, because the one has a great deal more power than the other.

—The Shreveport Bulletin says: "The following well-known river men are having new stern-wheel steamers constructed for them, adapted to the Red River trade: Capt. Joe. Clarke, Capt. Frank Smith, Capt. W. T. Boardman, Capt. Thornton, Jacobs, Capt. A. A. Baines, Capt Flatow, Capt. Dohman, Capt. J. H. Brinker, Capt. Jos. A. Aiken, Capt. W. W. Witherbun, Capt. Halleday, Capt. Newton, and Capt. Gus. Hodge.

—John Vandergraff, who was convicted of manslaughter and recommended to the mercy of the court, on the charge of murder, in having killed, on the 4th of April, in New Orleans, Robert Allen, Jr. the pilot of the Pauline Carroll, was sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary.

—Capt. John Kyle has chartered the America and Nightingale to Capt. Honshell, of the Big Sandy and Pomeroy Packet Co., during low water. They will take the Fleetwood's place, while arrangements are being made for light boats to take the place of the Telegraph.

—The Crystal Palace, Captain W. J. Kountz, in 1854 made the run from Cairo to St. Louis in 16 hours and 11 minutes, making seven stops with the mail.

—The Peninah, arrived at Sioux City on the 2d inst from Fort Benton, in 6 days and 23 hours, said to be the best time on record.

—The Nick Wall left St. Louis for Shreveport on the 2d.

These bonds have 50 years to run, are convertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the Company at par, and the payment of the principal is provided for by a sinking fund.
The greater part of the road is already completed and shows large earnings, and the balance of the work is rapidly progressing.
We unhesitatingly recommend these Bonds as the safest and best investment in the market.
U. S. Five-twenties, at present prices, only return five per cent. interest, while these pay eight and one-quarter per cent. in Gold, and we regard the security equally good.
The Company reserve the right, without notice, to advance the price.

Saloon Row.—John Joseph Wagner, proprietor of a beer saloon on Main street, Allegheny, yesterday made information before Alderman Bolster charging Adam Lindner, Adam Eichel, Paulus Cropp and others with creating a disturbance at his establishment Tuesday night. Boy Drowned.—About half-past two o'clock yesterday afternoon, William Murray, a boy between fifteen and sixteen years of age, was drowned in the Allegheny river near the Point. It appears that he was riding in a skiff, and pulling into the track of a steamer the skiff was capsized by the swells. The accident occurred near a barge, under which the boy was carried by the current. The body was recovered a few moments after at the lower end of the barge, but life was extinct. It was removed to the residence of the boy's parents on Fifth street.

Picnic Festivities.

Fred Fenker and David Moore attended a festal gathering at Pleasant Valley Grove on the Fourth. They there had a misunderstanding, and come together in a hostile way, when Fred was deprived of his smaller digit which somehow got between the teeth of his opponent and was thus severed from the hand. Alderman Bolster was made acquainted with the case yesterday, and Moore was accordingly arrested and held for a hearing for aggravated assault and battery.

Distinguished Colored Visitors.

Senator Revels and Hon. J. J. Wright will attend the commencement exercises of Avery College during the day at the College in Allegheny, and this evening at Lafayette Hall, where they will deliver addresses. We learn from Mr. Pulpress, Chairman of the Reception Committee, that the distinguished strangers will, under the auspices of the Committee, visit many of our manufactories in and about the city. We bespeak the cordial reception and courteous treatment for these, as we would for any other representative men desirous of personally certifying themselves of the material growth and prosperity of our city.

New Firm.

Attention is called to the card of Mr. Jacob B. Hubley, announcing that his nephew, Mr. Alexander F. Hay, has been admitted to an interest in the firm. This well known house was established over forty years ago by Mr. Robert Knox, deceased, well known to the old residents of the city. It has always stood high in business circles, and is still worthy of the reputation of being a first-class establishment. Mr. Hubley was a member of the firm of R. Knox & Co., and for many years has been sole proprietor. The numerous friends of Mr. Hay will be pleased to learn that he has been admitted into this worthy old house. Recently the house has been fitted up at much expense, especially the apartment for those desiring meals to order.

Continued Public Sale.

Owing to the heavy rains preventing persons from attending the sale of those desirable pieces of ground at City View, only part of them were sold, and the balance will be offered on Friday, July 9th, at 2 o'clock P. Any persons desiring a piece of ground from one to five acres, covered with bearing fruit trees and grapes, and commanding a beautiful view of city and country, within fifteen minutes drive of the Allegheny Diamond, via Federal street, North avenue and lower Perrysville plank road, should not fail to attend, as sites so convenient on such easy terms are exceedingly rare.

Terms, one-fifth cash and balance in five equal annual payments, with interest. Conveyances will be provided to take persons to and from the sale, starting at Troy Hill Passenger cars, at corner of East and Ohio streets, from 1½ to 2½ o'clock.

That Clerical Scandal Again.

It was generally supposed when the Rev. Dr. Clark had passed through that severe ordeal before his Presbytery a few weeks ago, his case, in relation to that "breach of promise," was settled. This seems, however, to have been a mistake. For some time rumors have been current that the scandal was to be revived and the Presbytery again called upon to engage in a judicial investigation. Within a few days these rumors have been substantiated by other evidences which indicate there is truth in the talk. We have it from reliable authority that a Committee has been appointed to investigate a new charge. This in substance is that the "promise" was made prior to the decease of the reverend gentleman's wife. The prosecutor in the new case is said to be the accused's brother-in-law, who appeared as his counsel in the former trial. The Committee it is understood will report at the next meeting of the Presbytery.

It is to be regretted that the case is to be again brought before the public. We have refrained from mentioning the matter in this new light until it has become the subject of general conversation. While not taking sides either way in the absence of all the facts, we may say that the evidence to substantiate such a charge should be very conclusive, otherwise it were better a prosecution had never been entered upon. In any event it is but the part of justice to all concerned that the public be not hasty in forming a judgment until all the facts are developed.

Personal.

AUDLEY W. GAZZAM, Esq., formerly of this city, but now of Utica, N. Y., is in town on a brief visit to his friends here. He is looking some thirty pounds heavier than formerly, appears to be in vigorous health, and is the same genial and sprightly gentleman as formerly. We understand Mr. Gazzam has attained to much professional distinction in Utica, and also that during a long confinement from an injured limb he had prepared a treatise on the bankrupt law, adapted both to the professional and business man, and about to be published in New York. We hope that in the field of authorship our friend will experience the success due to his industry and talent.

MR. ALEXANDER F. HAY, admitted to an interest in the house of Jacob B. Hubley, 27 and 29 Fourth avenue, is a worthy young man of modest mien, and possesses capital business qualifications. Mr. Hubley will be ably assisted in this new association, in sustaining the high reputation of this time-honored and staunch house.

JOSEPH HORNE, Esq., the senior member of the large jobbing house of J. Horne & Co., Market street, and his eldest son, have started on a pleasure tour over the Pacific Railroad to California, and will not return until about the 1st of August. The well wishes of hosts of friends go with father and son in their jaunt.

DR. MEINERTZHAGAN has formally assumed editorial charge of the Freiheits Freund, and the change in the character of that journal is a marked one. Dr. M. is probably one of the most thoroughly and profoundly educated gentlemen in the city.

Reform! Where!

The delegates elected to the so-called Reform Convention on Saturday last, to the number of twenty, and about fifty self-constituted delegates, representing wards and districts in which no elections were held, and in which the "little game" of Kirk, Keeler, Carnahan, Caruthers & Co. has no adherents, met in convention in the District Court Room at half-past ten o'clock, yesterday morning, for the purpose of following out the programme which had been set up the evening previous by the above named gentlemen and their proselytes at "headquarters," on Smithfield street.

The Convention was called for ten o'clock, but at that hour the number in attendance, including only the twenty regularly elected delegates, was so meagre that Mr. Kirk thought it advisable to postpone the calling of the Convention to order until half-past ten. In the meantime he and others of the purifyers busied themselves in securing men to represent unrepresented districts and making them familiar with the programme, which had been adopted by the "Executive Committee."

At half-past ten o'clock all things being in readiness Mr. Kirk mounted the bench, called the Convention to order and moved that R. B. Carnahan, Esq., be elected chairman of the Convention, which motion was adopted.

Mr. Carnahan, on taking the chair, after thanking the Convention for the honor conferred on him, said that it was unnecessary to state the object for which this Convention had assembled; its object had been published to the world. Its object, briefly stated, was to nominate a ticket that the masses of the Republican party could and would give an honest support, and to have the people take part in the selection of candidates. The next business in order, he said, was the election of Vice Presidents—The following named gentlemen were nominated: John Hesson, Ed. Hoskinson, Alex. Nimick, J. N. Shallenberger, S. M. Duval and James R. Reed.

Secretaries—The following gentlemen were elected Secretaries: John Irwin, Jr., Hugh Lee, Robt. G. Atkinson, Frank Anderson and D. C. Ripley.

THE FIRST SHELL.

The chairman stated that the first business in order would be the receiving of the credentials of delegates and completing the roll. The secretaries commenced to call over the districts beginning with the First ward, Pittsburgh, (which didn't respond) when it became apparent that there were a large majority of self-constituted, or appointed delegates, as but few of them were provided with the usual credentials.

Mr. Oliver, from the 21st ward, moved that no person be admitted as a delegate to this convention without presenting the proper credentials.

A delegate thought this would not be good policy as it was well known that in many districts no elections had been held and men had been appointed to represent them, and consequently were not provided with the necessary credentials and would by the adoption of that motion be excluded. If it was desirable to have a full convention it would not do to adopt the motion.

Mr. Oliver did not desire to have a packed convention, and if persons were admitted as delegates merely by handing in their names, the convention might as well resolve itself into a mass meeting. He was opposed to having men come here representing no constituency. The call for primary meetings had been published and if districts failed to hold elections it was either an evidence that they had no sympathy with the movement or did not desire to express it, and he thought this convention had no right to appoint delegates for them. This was supposed to be a reform movement, emanating from the people, and he was opposed to forming a convention with delegates who represented no constituency.

Mr. Kirk—I care nothing for the constituency here. Mr. President, we will have a constituency of ten or twenty-five thousand at the October election. The men who are here are honest men, whether they have been honestly elected or not.

Prof. Thompson said that he held in his hand the names of two gentlemen who had been appointed delegates from a township where no election was held and the adoption of this motion would rule them out. [A voice from the lobby; "Who appointed them?" to which the response came, "Kirk & Co."]

Mr. Oliver said for the sake of harmony he would withdraw the motion, although as a matter of principle he thought it right.

MORE DELEGATES WANTED.

Mr. Barr moved that persons from districts not represented in the Convention be admitted as delegates by signing the call for the Convention.

The motion was adopted, and three or four delegates were added to the Convention.

CONTESTED SEATS.

Mr. Ross moved that a committee of three be appointed as a committee on credentials or contested seats.

A delegate desired to know the necessity for such a committee, as but few of the delegates were provided with credentials, and there were no contested seats. The policy of the Convention appeared to be to admit, and not throw out delegates. The motion was adopted, and Messrs. N. B. Ross, Jno. A. Caruthers and J. S. Slagle were appointed.

Represented 51
Not represented 51

The list having been completed, it was resolved to proceed to business, and Mr. Kirk moved that all persons not delegates be required to retire outside of the bar. Adopted.

Mr. Kirk moved that the Convention now proceed to nominate a full ticket. Adopted.

Mr. Kirk moved that the vote for candidates be viva voce.

A delegate moved to amend by substituting "marking" for "viva voce."

Mr. Kirk thought the amendment unfortunate, as the system of marking had been the cause of more complaint in the regular Republican Convention than anything else, and he moved to lay the amendment on the table. Adopted.

The question recurring on the original motion to vote "viva voce," was then adopted.

ANOTHER SHELL.

Mr. Frank Anderson, from Neville township, said:

Mr. President and gentlemen of the Convention: Before proceeding to make nominations I desire to make a few remarks. I have come into this convention as a delegate from Neville township, a district that always has been and is still true to Republican principles, and if I know myself, I have come here as a friend of this reform movement, but I wish our action to be for the best interest of reform. All I want is good men nominated. I care not whether this or another convention nominates them, so that they be true Republicans and men of undoubted integrity. I feel sure that under present circumstances the Republican Convention to meet in August will make fully as good nominations as we can make, and then the difficulty of having two sets of good candidates in the field, both representing one party, cannot be overcome.

I fear the result might be the greatest of all evils, the election of Democrats to our State Assembly, which you know would be a great evil, especially at this time. I see a great number of our country districts not here represented, but I think it is because farmers are now busy harvesting.

I believe there are none but true Republicans here to-day, none but those who are anxious for the success of the great Republican party, and considering this fact, I now move this Convention adjourn to meet one week after the August Convention, and if that convention does not make satisfactory nominations we will then make such nominations as will receive the support of all good Republicans of the county.

This was the signal for loud cheers in the lobby, and the Convention itself was thrown into a state of confusion.

A delegate mounted on a chair shouted in thunder tones, "Mr. President, this Convention was called for a purpose, and we should proceed to business. I am not in favor of backing down now."

"Confusion worse confounded" now ensued. The chairman rapped with the gavel. Kirk shouted order. Partial order was finally restored and the business proceeded.

A delegate moved to amend Mr. Anderson's motion by adding that "a committee be appointed to confer with the regular Republican County Executive Committee, and if possible induce them to call the regular Republican Convention at an earlier day than that now fixed."

Another scene of confusion, disgraceful in the extreme, ensued.

Mr. Anderson attempted to regain the floor but was prevented by the hissing and clapping of hands, which proceeding was imitated by Mr. Kirk and carried on by his proselytes, so that we were prevented from hearing Mr. Anderson's remarks.

A FIRE BRAND.

Mr. Atkinson succeeded in getting the floor and spoke as follows:

Mr. President: I not only am opposed to this Convention taking any action upon the names of those submitted as candidates, but I go farther and say that there should be no action taken, placing us in opposition to the grand old Republican party. I am proud of being associated with so many known to me as men of undoubted integrity and ability, but I beg you, gentlemen, to think of the probable consequences of making any nominations here to-day. Let us give the people an address and platform, asking them, as a body, to purge the party. If any who are therein known or suspected of dishonesty or incapacity, but let us not commit the folly of killing the Republican party in the house of its friends. Here, where it first took National form and shape, going on from that day to this with the entire approbation of all good citizens, doing a work of reformation and progression. Why not adjourn this Convention until some subsequent day, agree with the County Committee for the withdrawal of its present call and have an earlier date, take away the source of so much exulting and joy from that wooden Post upon Wood street, which has stood by this movement from its inception, clapping its hands, and crowing for joy over the prospective victory, of resuscitation of the Democratic corpse into life and power, stroking the pin feathers of this bantling, and in its ecstacy of joy crying Eureka. "It is not our funeral" but our morning of hopeful light. Another Commissionership disaster. A little more dissension in our own ranks about who shall fill the offices, whose friends that are out shall get in, to enrich themselves under the guise of reform to the utter dissolution and destruction of the noble, staunch and true, with all its many deformities, the good old Union Republican party. Let us adjourn, to go to the polls upon the regular election day, preserving our organization intact, there consult the wishes of the people as we ought to do, as we claim this is a people's popular reform movement, elect men of integrity and send them to the convention and reform the party within the party without any soreheads, without any ringstreaked piebald elements, claiming that as they represent one-third of the election districts in the county, therefore being reformers they have a right to put in nomination a ticket not only for this county, but in fact as is proposed for the freemen and voters of Armstrong and Butler counties: let us have no wheels within wheels, but the old unity, the old supremacy, the new glory of new deeds united to those of the old. [Applause from the lobby, and consternation in the ranks of the purifyers followed.]

THE NOMINATIONS.

The nomination of Congressional candidates being first in order the names of Major Wm. Frew and Gen. J. K. Morehead were mentioned.

Prof. Thompson stated that he was authorized to say that General Moorhead was not a candidate before this or any other Convention, and that he would refuse any nomination which might be tendered him.

Mr. Ross said that he thought there should be seperate Congressional Conventions. It would not be proper for either district represented in the Convention to nominate a candidate for the other.

Prof. Thompson moved to postpone the nomination of Congressional candidates until the afternoon session, and it was agreed to.

The following nominations were then made.

State Senate.—Alex. Gordon, George H. Anderson, Thos. Howard.

Assembly.—F. A. Hutchinson, Joseph Watson, Thomas Penney, Alexander Nimick, Jas. B. Lyons, James M. Cooper, W. T. Haines, Henry Warner, Alexander Millar, John Irwin, Jr., Miles Humphreys, Robert Arthurs, Richard C. Gray, D. D. White, Wm. Dillworth, J. H. Kerr.

County Commissioner.—Isaiah Dickey, Simon Drum, Geo. Finley, T. J. Hoskinson, Joseph Dilworth.

Prothonotary.—Jacob Walter, Geo. Neeld, Joseph Ross, Geo. D. Riddle.

Mr. Kirk desired to know if the names of Ross, Riddle and Walter were used by authority.

Mr. Oliver replied that he had not consulted Mr. Walters, neither had that gentleman consulted him on the subject, but he understood the object of this convention to be to secure good men for the offices. He knew Mr. Walter to be a good Republican and knew that he had made an acceptable officer to the people.

Mr. Atkinson said that he did not think a delegate was compelled to ask Mr. Kirk who should and who should not be a candidate before this convention. The men about whom he had inquired were all honest Republicans, and that was all that it was necessary for this convention to know. If they did not want to serve the people they could decline if nominated.

Mr. Kirk attempted to reply, but the Chairman called him to order, and the business of the convention was proceeded with.

Coroner—W. H. Hope, First ward, Allegheny, James Miller, Allegheny, and Jonathan G. West, of Mifflin.

Jury Commissioner—Aaron Floyd, nominated by acclamation.

Director of Poor—Minas Tindle, nominated by acclamation.

COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS.

After the nominations had been made, Mr. Kirk moved that a committee, consisting of five persons, be appointed on resolutions.

The motion was adopted, and the Chair appointed Messrs. Kirk, Shaffer, Slagle, Thompson and Neald on the committee.

A motion to adjourn until half-past one o'clock was then made, but before the question was put, Mr. Slagle moved that the names of the candidates in nomination be printed on slips for the convenience of delegates. The motion was adopted, when Mr. Kirk suggested that if the names were to be printed it would be proper to name the Congressional candidates so that their names could appear with the others. He said the candidates need only be voted for by the delegates residing in the proper districts.

CONGRESSIONAL NOMINATIONS.

A motion embodying the suggestion having been adopted the following nominations were made.

Twenty-second District—Major Wm. Frew, Gen. J. S. Negley.

Twenty-third District—F. R. Brunot, James M. Cooper.

Mr. Kirk moved that a Committee of three be appointed to wait on Mr. Brunot to request the use of his name as a candidate for Congress. Withdrawn.

The Convention then took a recess until half-past one o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Convention re-assembled at half-past one o'clock, and was called to order by the Chairman.

On motion the name of William Little was added to the list of nominees for the office of Prothonotary.

THE RESOLUTIONS.

The report of the Committee on Resolutions was then called for, and Mr. David Kirk, Chairman, submitted the following:

Resolved, By the Republicans of Allegheny county in convention assembled, that we reaffirm the principles embodied in the platforms of the Chicago Convention of 1868, and the State Convention which met in Philadelphia in 1869; in the various reconstruction measures adopted by Congress in the Fifteenth Amendment of the Constitution of the United States. The noble services rendered by the Republican party in the preservation of our free American government, and in securing to all persons justice over equality of rights, and all the rights of man, constitute an imperishable record, and entitle the party to the continuance of confidence of the American people.

2. That the present imperative duty of Republicans is to keep the party organization pure and incorruptible, and maintain in lively activity the strength and energy of the party. This can be done only by placing and keeping in official stations representatives of the party worthy of the public confidence. The great need of the day is that nominations for office be made under the dictation and compulsion of public opinion; and the chief purpose of this convention is to bring the Republican masses into a more active participation in the business of making nominations to the end that the party be honestly and efficiently represented. Our sole aim and object is party purification.

3. That reform in the administration of our party affairs is indispensible to the maintenance of Republican ascendancy in Pennsylvania. The General Assembly has become a reproach to the state, and the public confidence has been withdrawn from it. Corrupt special legislation has grown into an engrossing and frightful public evil, debauching the public morality, and entailing enormous burdens on the State. It is publicly charged in the newspaper press, and generally believed, that the high offices in the gift of the Legislature are bought and sold. The remedy of these evils is with the people, and can be exercised only by the selection of honest and capable representatives, and by restricting the Legislative power of the General Assembly through a Constitutional Convention.

4. That we condemn the mode in use in this county of making nominations for office as unfair and making opportunities for the practice of fraud and corruption at the primary meetings and in the conventions, as giving origin to political brokerage, "slate making," and other discreditable practices by which the will of the people is defeated; and, as a consequence resulting frequently, in the nomination of candidates unworthy the confidence of the people. It is not forgotten that many good people have come into office under the system now condemned; but experience has shown that the system itself provides no effectual security for honesty and competency in the selection of the candidates, and that party, purity and success demand an improved method.

5. That the greatest danger to our party and country at the present time is the corruption that pervadas the public service and the wild scramble for office. The doctrine that to the victor belongs the spoil, is demoralizing and destroying the Government, and we, therefore, insist that the despotism of patronage and public offices be taken from partisans and given only to competent persons on the principle of the Jenckes' Civil Service bill.

6. That the laws that give to Clerks, Registers, Prothonotarys and Sheriffs ten, twenty and thirty thousand dollars per annum, and to Judges three to five, are absurd and wrong, and we call upon the Legislature to enact a law that will compensate according to the talent required, and that all fees over reasonable and fixed compensation shall be paid into the public treasury.

7. That the culpably lax administration of the license laws by the County Commissioners, in granting licenses, in many instances, to persons not qualified, by moral character or by compliance with the requirements of the law, is a great and crying evil, resulting in an alarming increase of the vice of intemperance, and the sorrowful train of woes and crimes which it entails upon the community. And in order to remedy this evil we call upon the people to elect such Commissioners as will, in accordance with their oaths of office, rigidly enforce the license laws as they now exist.

8. That we cordially endorse the able and successful administration of President Grant, and pledge to it our continued support. We especially commend the economy in the collection of the national revenue, which has resulted in the saving of $125,000,000 within a period of sixteen months, and which has given the administration an enlarged claim upon the public confidence.

9. We cordially endorse the able and patriotic administration of the State government, of His Excellency, John W. Geary, where honesty and firmness, in times of trial and danger, have given him additional claims upon the confidence of the party and the people.

10. Resolved, That the true policy of the National Government is the reduction of taxation, which can be accomplished by the funding of the debt at a low rate of interest, thus extending the time of payment, and we especially call for the removal of all inquisitorial taxation which requires an army of officers for their collection.

On motion the report was adopted.

MINORITY REPORT.

Mr. John S. Slagle, one of the Committee on Resolutions, said he had been unable to have all his ideas incorporated in the report, and would therefore offer the following additional resolution:

Resolved, That the members of this Convention, and the large body of Republican voters they represent, are no factionists, but true and loyal Republicans. We have no personal ends to accomplish. We seek only the good of our country and the success of our party, on whose success we believe the best interests of the country depend. We most heartily endorse the administration of Gen. Grant and Governor Geary, and desire the continued ascendancy of the Republican party in the Union and in our State. But, believing that that ascendancy cannot be maintained without a renovation and purifying of the party, we have met in Convention as an earnest remonstrance against the abuses that have existed, and to take such measures as may be necessary to effect the reforms so much needed. We wish, however, if possible, to avoid a division and defeat of the party at the coming election, on which so much depends. To this end, therefore, this Convention will make no nominations at this time, but will adjourn until the 31st day of August next, to take such action as may then seem necessary to carry out the objects for which we have been called together, and to advance the best interests of the Republican party.

On motion of Mr. Reed the resolution was received.

Mr. Gallagher then moved that the resolution be laid on the table.

Mr. Slagle said it might be proper to state that the paper had been prepared before the meeting, but he was acting on another committee when the Convention decided to proceed with the nominations. He thought it important that the party should be united, and he was therefore in favor of adjourning until the 21st of August. If the regular convention did not heed the movement, this Convention could reassemble and make their nominations.

Mr. Atkinson called for the yeas and nays on the motion to lay on the table.

The chairman decided that the call for the yeas and nays was out of order.

The motion was then adopted amid great confusion.

Mr. Atkinson thought Mr. Carnahan's ruling rather a strange one. He understood that this was a reform convention, and was surprised to see such proceedings.

Mr. Slagle thought that minorities had rights as well as majorities. He thought there was at least a very respectable minority in favor of the resolution and desired to know if there was no way to determine what the expression of the Convention was upon it.

Mr. Kirk—Mr President, the expression of the convention was so plain that "he who runs may read," and the "wayfaring man though a fool may not err therein." The vote was almost unanimous, except a few persons who came into the convention to create confusion.

Mr. Atkinson in explanation said that he had not come into the convention for the purpose of raising a disturbance but had been duly elected and had his credentials. He then offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That inasmuch as not more than one-half of the election districts of the county are represented in this Convention, as this is popularly a people's reform movement, and we deem it nothing more than right that there should be a full and fair expression of the Republican voters of this county, that a committee of seven be appointed to confer with the Union Republican County Executive Committee, and if possible harmonize the present differences between the two wings.

Resolved, That this Convention, after issuing an Address and submitting a Platform to the Republican voters of this county, recommending to them the support of none but known citizens of integrity as delegates to the nominating conventions, do adjourn.

The resolutions, on motion of Mr. Kirk, were laid on the table.

Mr. Slagle asked for information, how many men were in this convention in conformity with the call, with their credentials representing a constituency, as he was. It was an easy matter for a few persons to "put up" delegates for districts where no elections had been held, but such a course was not a representation of the voice of the people.

"Confusion worse confounded" followed this speech, and the chairman, in order to prevent any voice of the Convention being obtained, forced the motion to proceed to ballot for candidates, although no such motion had been made, and the confusion subsided. The balloting then proceeded.

A WITHDRAWAL.

Mr. Oliver, of the Twenty-third ward, when called upon to vote, stated that he could not vote honorably without considering himself bound to support the ticket, and as a Republican he could not consistantly do that, he therefore declined voting, and also desired to withdraw the name of Gen. James S. Negley as a candidate for Congress.

Mr. Atkinson stated that he was authorized to withdraw the name of John H. Kerr as a candidate for Assembly before this Convention, and at the same time desired to withdraw all ballots cast by himself. He was regularly elected a delegate to this Convention, and had his credentials as such. Although a majority of the Convention might differ with him, he thought that through justice all questions submitted by himself or any other delegate should receive the consideration of the Convention and be submitted to the delegates for their decision. He desired to wash his hands of all such rings and corruption as was apparent in this Convention. He would not be controlled by Dave Kirk and four others by and through whom this Convention has been packed.

The names of W. H. Hope and J. G. West were withdrawn from the convention as candidates for Coroner.

The delegate from McKeesport stated that he was authorized to withdraw the name of Alexander Miller as a candidate for Assembly from this convention.

The balloting having been concluded the result was announced as follows:

JURY COMMISSIONER.

DIRECTOR OF POOR.

Minas Tindle, nominated by acclamation.

The Chairman announced that those securing a majority of all the votes were declared the choice of the convention. There being but four of the candidates for Assembly having received a majority of all the votes it would be necessary to proceed to another ballot.

Mr. Barr moved that the two candidates having the next highest number of votes be declared nominated. Adopted.

Mr. Kirk amended by moving to proceed to a second ballot. The amendment was lost by a vote of 25 to 24.

The question recurred on the motion of Mr. Barr, which was adopted, and Messrs. Rich'd C. Gray and D. N. White were declared the choice of the convention for Assembly.

It was then moved to proceed to vote for the candidates for Prothonotary by rising.

The names were then called and the vote resulted as follows:

Geo. Neeld	20	J. H. Walter	1
Geo. D. Riddle	6	Wm. Little	23

Neither of the candidates having received a majority of the votes, the Chair decided that there was no choice.

It was then moved to proceed to another ballot by viva voce.

Mr. Kirk moved that all but the two highest on the list be stricken from the list. Adopted.

The roll was then called and a vote taken, with the following result:

Wm. Little	28	Geo. Neeld	30

Mr. Neeld was therefore declared the choice of the Convention.

Mr. D. C. Ripley offered a resolution instructing the Chairman to appoint an executive Committee of twenty-one members, which committee shall have power to fill any vacancy occurring in the ticket this day nominated, and also to call this Convention together if in their judgment it may be necessary.

The resolution was amended, to provide that the chairman of the Convention be chairman of the Committee, and that said Committee shall have power to add to its members.

Mr. Slagle offered as a substitute the following:

Resolved, That in our opinion the existing evils can be traced mainly to two sources: 1st. That of marking for candidates in nominating conventions; and 2d, The appointment of unfit persons on the County Executive Committee; and to remedy these evils and restore purity and harmony to the party we propose the following plan:

First. Only one nominating convention shall be held each year, and it shall nominate all candidates to be elected at the same election, and delegates to any National or State Conventions during that year shall be chosen by the convention called together by its officers called together especially for that purpose.

Second—All votings for candidates or delegates in the County Convention shall be viva voce. On the call of the districts in their order, the delegates shall rise in their places and announce distinctly in the hearing of the whole convention the names of the persons for whom they vote.

Third—The County Executive Committee shall be appointed in the following manner; the County shall be divided into twenty-five districts composed of an equal number of contiguous districts and the delegates from the districts thus formed shall choose one person for such district and the persons thus chosen shall be the Executive Committee for the succeeding year, and shall elect their own officers.

Mr. Riply withdrew his resolution.

Mr. Kirk thought the plan a good one, but he could not see how it could be put into operation at this time. He moved as an amendment that the county be divided into three divisions, north, south and middle, and that the delegates from each district be instructed to select seven persons to serve on the Executive Committee. No action.

The resolution offered by Mr. Slagle was then adopted.

A delegate moved that the Chair appoint a committee of ten to divide the county into twenty-five districts, in accordance with the plan proposed by Mr. Slagle. Adopted.

On motion, James Park, Jr., Reuben Bartlet and Thos. J. Hoskinson were appointed conferees to meet the conferees from the other counties comprising the Twenty-third District.

On motion of D. C. Ripley a vote of thanks was tendered to the President.

On motion adjourned.

The following letter was handed to a delegate, who neglected from some cause to read it:

R. B. CARNAHAN, ESQ., CHAIRMAN, DEAR SIR: Learning that my name is before the Reform Convention to-day in connection with the office of Prothonotary, I beg leave to state that whilst I am a candidate for that office, subject to the decision of the regularly called Republican Convention, I have no sympathy with any party or movement which will distract the Republican party, and desire that my name may be withdrawn from before your Convention. Respectfully yours,
JACOB H. WALTER.

PRISON REFORM.

Meeting of the Prison Society—What the Organization is Doing—Reports from the Officers.

A regular monthly meeting of the Allegheny County Prison Society was held Tuesday morning at ten o'clock in the Young Men's Home, Duquesne way.

In the absence of the President, Dr. J. G. Brown was called to the chair.

The Secretary, Mr. R. C. Miller, read the minutes of the last meeting which were approved.

The Treasurer, Mr. J. D. Carlisle, reported a deficit of $113.52 in the Treasury. Report received and filed.

The Rev. Mr. McLaughlin, agent of the Society, presented an interesting monthly report of his operations from which it appears he made during June twenty-six visits to the county jail—stopping in each instance to converse with the prisoners. He also visited eight or ten families throughout the cities and in most cases was the means of adjusting difficulties, which had disturbed the peace of the households.

During the month he found that three hundred and fourteen prisoners had been admitted to the county jail—upon various charges impossible to narrate. It was not possible to mention the many little acts which had been performed to relieve the condition of the unfortunates, and which it was hoped had the desired effect.

The report closes with the citation of a few cases of interest which came within the agent's operations during the month. One was that of a poor lame soldier, imprisoned unjustly for some trifling offense. The fact was brought to the attention of the District Attorney, who procured an order from Court and had the man discharged. The man was, at last accounts, doing well in another town.

Another was that of a girl of fourteen years of age committed for larceny, although unjustly. She was discharged by the Court when the case was brought before it.

The report was received and filed.

One of the members of the Visiting Committee next reported that he had, during the month, visited the Penitentiary three times, distributing tracts at each instance; also visited the Dauphin jail and Mercer and Lawrence county prisons. The jail at Mercer was especially commended—a new building and almost as perfect as it could be made. Religious services are held there every Sabbath. The New Castle jail was found to be a very inconvenient building and badly adapted to the purpose.

Another member reported a conversation with the Governor, in which that official had expressed his hearty sympathy with the Society and willing to lend all the aid possible to such organizations.

The committee appointed to publish the proceedings of the Society for 1869 reported they would have the work finished next week.

The agent was instructed to call upon citizens for their yearly subscriptions to the Society immediately. A liberal response to this appeal is expected and calculated upon.

The meeting then adjourned.

STRUCK BY THE LOCOMOTIVE.

A Foolhardy Experiment and its Result—Horse and Man Killed.

A fatal accident occurred yesterday morning, near Fleming Station, on the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad. It was the result of sheer recklessness. About seven o'clock Balser Wilke, driver for Messrs. Riddle & Pugh, of the Acid Works, was driving along the road near the station in company with another man. Wilke wanted to cross the track, but was warned by his companion not to make the attempt, as the express train was due at that moment. He persisted, however, and the adviser jumped from the vehicle leaving the driver to go it alone. Wicke continued on his course and lost his life. Just as he was on the track the Wheeling express rounded the curve in the road, and in the next instant the wagon was demolished, one of the horses thrown to one side and killed, and the driver run over and cut almost to pieces. The remains were dragged some distance before the train could be stopped. It is said the usual signals were given by the engineer on the locomotive, who was prevented from seeing the wagon on the track on account of the curve in the road at that place.

The remains were taken to the Acid Works and word sent to the Coroner, but at last accounts he had not held an inquest.

LOST HIS VOICE.

Playing with Fireworks—Singular Accident—A Little Boy the Victim.

Lambert Knoerr, a little boy about ten years of age, met with a very singular accident on Monday evening. He was playing with several companions in front of his father's residence, Liberty street, Allegheny, when a firecracker by some accident was thrown into his mouth, where it exploded. He fell to the ground and was taken into the house, when a physician was summoned. No special marks of injury could be discovered and the boy seemed well enough, except that he was unable to speak. He has remained since the accident in that condition, although otherwise he seems well enough. Every effort has been made to restore his lost powers of vocalization, but without avail. The case is indeed a strange one and has caused great grief to his parents. It is feared that he is permanently injured—that his speech can never be restored.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. Stephen Hoffman, indicted for the murder of Thomas Laughran, previously reported, was resumed and concluded. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

FROM THE surrounding country orders for Cream Ale throng upon Pier, Dannals & Co., and only by hard work night and day do they manage to keep even with the demand. That's what people get for making a good article.

WAS IT SUICIDE?

A Stranger's Corpse found in the River—Mysterious Death.

Yesterday morning at an early hour, some boys were playing about a raft, moored to the Allegheny shore of the Ohio river just below the Saw Mill Run Ferry Landing, when they discovered a suit of clothing, lying upon the boards. The fact was made known to some men in the vicinity whose suspicions were aroused. When the clothing was examined, a bottle was found containing a small quantity of collosive sublimate and marked "poison." The mystery was thus further increased and a case of suicide was at once suspected. The necessary apparatus was secured immediately and the river in the vicinity dragged for several hours, when the body of a man was at last drawn to the surface. The corpse evidently had not been in the water long, but whether the deceased had taken the poison, or drowned himself intentionally could not be ascertained.

Alderman Donaldson soon after in the absence of Coroner Clauson, held an inquest upon the remains, but nothing was developed leading to their identity. The man appeared as though he had been a mill hand, his hands being hard and tough and his arms burned. The jury returned a verdict of death by drowning, including in their finding an opinion that the case was one of suicide. The body was subsequently taken to Fairman's undertaking establishment from where it will be buried.

The Right Thing—The Right Place.

Mr. Editors:—I was led by your favorable notice of J. F. Beilstine, and by the testimony of a friend who has dealt with him for more than a year, to try for myself the quality of the various kinds of meat for which he is celebrated. My experience is good proof that Beilstine either at his stand 78 Pittsburgh or 39 Allegheny Market, is, as you have said, a sure place to get good, and only good beef, mutton, or veal, cut and served exactly as they should be. Try him and be convinced.

The Prettiest Woman in New York. Miss K——, well known in our fashionable society for her distingue appearance and beautiful complexion, was once a sallow, rough-skinned girl, chagrined at her red, freckled face. She pitched into Hagan's Magnolia Balm, and is now as pretty in complexion as she is charming in manners. This article overcomes freckles, tan, sallowness, moth-patches, ring-marks, etc., and makes one look ten years younger than they are. Magnolia Balm for a transparent complexion, and Lyon's Kathairon to make the hair plentiful, luxuriant, soft and delicate, have no rivals. The Kathairon prevents the hair from turning gray, eradicates dandruff, and is the best and cheapest dressing in the world. T:TH:S.
